Woman's Club Has Installation Of New Officers

Taking a garden as the ceremonial theme, Mrs. Oscar Elvrum, district vice-president of CFWC on Wednesday installed Mrs. Charles W. Stewart into office as new president of the Arcadia Woman's Club, along with ten other elective officers.

Following her introduction, when she was presented with a corsage by Mrs. G. G. Meade, retiring president, Mrs. Elvrum brought each officer-elect from her place facing the stage, onto the stage and gave her the oath of office. Mrs. Meade gave the new president a lovely basket of flowers from the club.

Concluding the ceremony, past presidents including Mrs. Stewart, who served the 1934-35 year, Mrs. Nellie White, Mrs. Clarence Dunham, Mrs. J. L. Byrne, Mrs. Mattie Peck and Mrs. W. G. Lewis, each with leis of pastel flowers about their shoulders, accepted Mrs. Meade back into the past presidents circle and with Mrs. Stewart officiating, placed a lei of carnations about her.

Mrs. Charles Dillingham, club hostess, escorted Mrs. Elvrum and all other officers during the meeting, and Mrs. LeRoy Anderson played the piano.

During Mrs. Stewart's former term as president, many outstanding accomplishments were noted. Membership in the club was doubled and a "ship fund" for an addition to the clubhouse was started. That fund was again taken up this year and at Wednesday's meeting, cash awards to winners in the membership contest—Mrs. Meade and Miss Eva Reynolds—were put into the fund, as well as a special gift from Mrs. Meade.

This week's session started with brunch served at 11 a. m. by Mrs. Baughman and Mrs. Cross. During the business meeting which followed, Mrs. Meade and her officers were seated on the stage, all marching in from the foyer. Sweet pea corsages, presented to the officers by the president, harmonized with their long pastel gowns. Mrs. Nellie White acting flag-bearer, carried in the flag which she had presented to the club several years ago.

Mrs. Willey Entertains Executive Board

Mrs. Charles Willey entertained yesterday afternoon for members of the executive board of the Arcadia Woman's Club, at a beautifully appointed tea at her apartment in the Fleeta. The rooms were filled with bouquets of sweet peas, snapdragons and stocks in pastel shades.

During the afternoon the executive members formulated plans for the forthcoming annual dance which is held each year at the Turf Club. It was decided to hold the dance sometime in April, with the date to be announced in a week or so.

Committees Appointed

Committees included: Mrs. George Needham, tickets and checkroom: Mrs. Keith Beanston, buffet supper: Mrs. A. R. Chamber, outside contacts; Mrs. John Renshaw, erection of music platform; Mrs. C. C. Hofman, furniture arrangements; Mrs. Eugene Harpole, piano; Mrs. J. P. Reynolds, prizes.

Because Mrs. Willey has handled and sponsored a number of successful dances, members appointed her to take charge of all publicity.

At the conclusion of the formulating of plans, the attractive buffet tea was served, with Mrs. Reynolds pouring.

Those present included: Mrs. Charles Stewart, Mrs. John Renshaw, Mrs. Keith Beanston, Mrs. Eugene Harpole, Mrs. J. P. Reynolds, Mrs. Ardene Boller, Mrs. Mark Millspaugh, Mrs. A. R. Chambers, Mrs. W. E. Larsh, Mrs. George Needham, Mrs. C. C. Hoffman, and the hostess, Mrs. Charles Willey.

Mrs. Ellen Donkin, Mrs. Harriett Lucas, and Mrs. Estell Murphy were accepted as new members. Mrs. Clara Morris, accepted at the last meeting, made the total of 33 new members for the past year. Six members who were commended for having attended each meeting were the presidnt, Mrs. J. Hall, Mrs. Banston. Mrs. Larsh, Mrs. Randolph and Mrs. Harpole.

Reports from various chairmen showed the club in excellent condition throughout. All bills incurred have been paid including a substantial amount on the building indebtedness. The reading of the historian's report by Mrs. Carl Randolph was proof of a most successful year.

Mrs. Meade was given a lovely basket of flowers from the club and the business meeting closed with recessional of officers.

Under the direction of Mrs. Roy V. Nye, the Mothers' Chorus sang three numbers, including "Where'er You Walk' by Handel; "Dedication" by Franz and "Koosheeo" by Ferris.

Guests were Mrs. Rolland McIntyre, Mrs. Estell Murphy, Mrs. Gladys Murfett, Mrs. Emma Page, Mrs. Watson Bristol and Mrs. Yarrow.

GIVEN APPOINTMENT

Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff, well known in Arcadia social circles, has been appointed chairman of the California History and Landmark Section of the Arcadia Woman's Club.

The monthly programs for the summer and fall months have been contributed by various members of the section, and trips to places of romantic and historical interest have been outlined.

Woman's Club To Sponsor Benefit Party

The first in a series of summer benefit parties will be given Thursday, July 22, by the Arcadia Woman's Club, at the home of Mrs. Eugene Harpole, with Mrs. John A. Renshaw assisting as co-hostess.

Plans are being made for the parties to be held at homes of the various members throughout the summer, some of them to be garden affairs.

Next Thursday's benefit will be "salad-bridge," with serving scheduled for 12:30, it has been announced. Both contract and auction bridge will be played and prizes will be given to winners. A door prize will be awarded as well.

Reservations at twenty-five cents each may be made with Mrs. Harpole, whose telephone number is 2487. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Benefit Party Next Week At Byrne Home

Mrs. J. L. Byrne, one of Arcadia's most charming hostesses, has graciously offered the use of her lovely home at 1511 south Santa Anita avenue for the second in a series of summer benefits for the Arcadia Woman's Club.

Mrs. A. R. Chambers and Mrs. George Needham are hostesses for the affair to be given Thursday afternoon, August 19th. A delicious luncheon will be served at 12:30 and the afternoon will be spent playing cards. Both contract and auction bridge will be played, with prizes for each.

With so many improvements and with such a banner year scheduled for the Woman's Club, proceeds from these summer parties will be put to good use. Forty-six attended the first affair, given on July 22, and it is hoped that next week's party will attract even more. The public is invited.

Mrs. Needham will take reservations by telephone. Her number is 650.

Arcadia Women Start Club Benefits

First in a series of benefits for the Arcadia Woman's club was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Eugene Harpole, 1156 Arcadia ave. A tasty salad was served to 46 women who were seated at small tables centered with dainty bouquets of garden flowers. The living room of the home was decorated with gladioli and gardenias.

Mrs. John A. Renshaw was cohostess with Mrs. Harpole for the party. Mrs. May Glover is general chairman of the entire series.

Five tables of auction and contract bridge were played during the afternoon. Mrs. A. E. Gruben won first prize for auction and Mrs. J. West, consolation. Prize for high score at contract went to Mrs. M. West and consolation to Mrs. J. Armstrong. Mrs. Charles W. Stewart and Mrs. Vera Whiteley of Monrovia won door prizes.

ARCADIA CLUB WOMEN PLAN FALL WORK

The president and members of the executive board of the Arcadia Woman's club have called a special meeting of club members for Wednesday at 2:30 at the clubhouse to consider needed improvements of the club building.

If possible and advisable, the board members would like to have these improvements finished before the beginning of the club year in October. A storeroom is needed and the kitchen and auditorium should be re-decorated.

Appointments

Mrs. Charles Stewart, president of the club announces the following appointments: As music chairman of the club, Mrs. Marie Chambers will devote her time and musical experience to increasing interest and pleasure on the part of the club women in group singing at many of the club meetings during the coming year. Mrs. Chambers will seek musical talent among club members and will arrange several songfests on different days.

Mrs. Rowena N. Dillingham has accepted the appointment of door chairman and will arrange the reception groups to serve the club in this important capacity during the club year.

Under the capable direction of Mrs. Luly Randolph, current events of importance and particular interest to the club women will be given by selected speakers on a number of club day programs.

Finance Board

As a help to the executive board and club members in directing and regulating the finances of the club, Mrs. W. G. Lewis assisted by the treasurer, Mrs. Mark Millspaugh and Mrs. C. T. Schermerhorn will serve as financial committee. Mrs. Lewis brings her experience gained while observing an exacting system for a number of years as city librarian. Mrs. Schermerhorn has had fine clerical training and Mrs. Millspaugh is an expert keeper of accounts. The club is fortunate in securing such service.

Improvement Job In Clubhouse Progressing

An S.O.S. call is being sent out to all clubwomen who are able to be present at the Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse from 8 a. m. to 12 and from 1 to 4 p. m. on Wednesday, September 1, to prepare for the interior painting job which is to start the next day.

Mrs. Roy Pike and Mrs. A. L. Parker, who head the clean-up crew, announce that there will be no laborious work, the scrubbing of wood and floors having been included in the painters' contract. However, there are "odd-jobs"—such as straightening the dish cupboards—which take time and which "many willing hands make easy."

It is anticipated that the storeroom, now in the progress of being constructed off the kitchen, will be completed by September 1, so that it may be used during the painting time. The entire redecorating should be finished by the end of the following week.

Those who desire may bring their lunches or a hot dish and sandwiches to share pot luck style. Each is urged to bring cleaning cloths from home if possible.

Attend Program Audition At Headquarters

Mrs. A. R. Chambers represented the program committee of the Arcadia Woman's Club at the program audition held Wednesday at C.F.W. C. headquarters in Los Angeles. She was accompanied by Mrs. George Needham, a member of the board, and Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, president.

Following the audition, the trio visited Olvera Street, where they enjoyed luncheon.

Membership Tea At Clubhouse, Colorful Affair

One hundred-twenty-five Arcadia women, dozens of them newcomers to the community, gathered Wednesday afternoon at the Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse for one of the season's loveliest social functions . . . a musical tea arranged by Mrs. Glenn B. Watson and her membership committee . . . for the purpose of acquainting new residents with the club membership.

The newly decorated clubhouse made a fitting background for the party, the first since the improvements have been completed. The soft green drapes at the long windows against the light colortone of the walls, harmonized with the floral decorations.

As guests arrived they were received by Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, president, and the following officers: Mrs. M. G. Millspaugh, Mrs. C. C. Hoffman, Mrs. George Needham, Mrs. Wood Glover, Mrs. J. Thomas Reynolds and Mrs. Eugene Harpole. Introductions were made by the membership committee including Mrs. Watson, chairman, Mrs. Hardy Harris, Mrs. Charles A. Dillingham, Mrs. A. N. Multer, Mrs. Ardene Boller, Mrs. F. C. Ingram, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Schouten and Miss Eva Reynolds.

During the serving of tea, the Corydon Marimba Band played a group of several well-chosen selections.

The tea-table, set up in the foyer, was a picture in its decorations of pastel single asters and pink rose-buds. Dainty cakes and mints stressed a green and white color scheme. Mrs. Boller, Mrs. Lucas, Mrs. A. P. King, and Mrs. J. M. MacFarlane poured

On the auditorium stage baskets of large yellow zinnias were attractively arranged.

In expressing her appreciation for willing assistance in making the party such a delightful and successful affair, Mrs. Watson announced this morning that many "paid-up" memberships were turned in to the committee at the close of the afternoon.

With such a beautiful start, the coming year at the Arcadia Woman's Club promises to be one outstanding for many seasons to come . . . one of great social, cultural and civic benefit to the membership and to the community.

Informal Tea Is Prelude To Club Year

Every member of the Woman's Club of Arcadia is to be present, and, if possible, bring a friend to the clubhouse tomorrow, when a delightful informal tea will be staged by Mrs. Glenn Watson and her membership committee, as a forerunner to the club season which opens October 6th.

The tea will be given from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. especially to introduce club-minded newcomers to Arcadia to the Woman's Club membership. Any woman in the city, whether or not she is a new resident or not she is a new resident, and who is interested in the social and cultural benefits of the club, is invited to attend the tea. Plans have been made to serve two hundred.

Newcomers Greeted at Reception

The reception and tea given last week as a courtesy to women who have recently moved to Arcadia to make their homes, was a delightful social event of the Arcadia Woman's club. It was arranged by the club membership chairman, Mrs. Glen B. Watson, who was assisted by her committee.

The redecorated interior of the clubhouse with its new draperies and baskets of bright flowers, furnished a pleasant setting for the affair which was attended by about a hundred and fifty visitors and members.

A marimba and piano quartette furnished music during the afternoon.

Board Receives

In the receiving line were members of the club executive board, Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, president; Mrs. H. Beanston, Mrs. Eugene Harpole, Mrs. J. Thomas Reynolds, Mrs. Ardene Boller, Mrs. Mark Millspaugh, Mrs. Wood Glover, Mrs. George Needham and Mrs. Charles Hoffman. In the foyer tea was served from a beautifully appointed tea table, arranged in silver and white. Mrs. Boller, Mrs. MacFarlane and Mrs. A. P. King poured.

After an interval of two years, Mrs. Stewart is again assuming the leadership of the club as its president. The club's first regular meeting of the season will be Wednesday, Oct. 6, when new members and special guests will be welcomed. Very interesting, educational and entertaining programs and a number of special evening events are in store for the coming year.

Much interest is being manifested in the club activities and many of the new members are assuming responsibilities in various departments of work.

Arcadia Women's Club Opens Season October 6th

Under the leadership of Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, members of the Woman's Club of Arcadia . . . those who have watched the club grow from its infancy to the progressive social and cultural organization which it is today . . . and many, many new members . . . will assemble for the year's first meeting next Wednesday, October 6, at the clubhouse on South First avenue.

Mrs. Stewart's capabilities as a leader are well-known to Arcadians for she directed activities of the club for the 1934-35 term, one outstanding on club records.

Already, since her installation in June, the clubhouse has been treated with a complete renovation. A new store-room has been built, the stage has been given a fine hardwood floor, the kitchen and the auditorium have been painted a clean, bright color and new drapes in a soft shade of green grace the long auditorium windows.

It is in this lovely atmosphere that Mrs. Stewart will call her first meeting to order.

Luncheon Program

As the old and new members and guests arrive for the noon luncheon, they will be welcomed by the executive board. Mrs. Ella Baughman, who has been appointed luncheon chairman for the entire year, is herself in charge of preparing the first luncheon and is making plans to accommodate a capacity attendance. During the hour, incidental music will be played by Janet Taylor, harpist of Los Angeles. Reservations should be phoned to Mrs. Baughman, Arcadia 8871, as soon as possible.

Artists Appear

For the afternoon program, Mrs. Wood Glover, program chairman, will present Ann Morrison and Frank Harford in "Portraits in Poetry." These two talented artists were engaged for the first meeting early in the summer. Many other artists and speakers of interest to club women will be introduced during the year, with a number of special events and subjects of particular importance.

Mrs. Mark G. Millspaugh, club treasurer, will receive the annual dues next Wednesday and will issue the membership and guest cards. Women are expected to show their membership cards thereafter when attending.

Decorations for the luncheon tables are to be in charge of Mrs. Roy Pike and Mrs. Joe Hall will arrange the general decorative scheme. Each will appoint her own assistants.

Programs for the entire year have been mapped out and year books will be mailed to all members at the end of the week. Four evening meetings have been arranged in advance and a number of additional social events will be announced at a later date. The club's section meetings have already started. In all, the year promises to be one of interest and variety from which all members will take pleasure and profit.

VALLEY-WIDE JULY 4 FETE SET FOR PARK

Arcadia Chamber Of Commerce Launches Plans For Staging Of Gala Event

A fourth of July celebration which would rank with any in Southern California will be staged in the county park here if proposed plans announced today by the Arcadia Chamber of Commerce materialize.

Twenty-five directors and co-directors of the C. of C., meeting in the city hall last night, discussed the project which would necessitate the cooperation of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Gabriel Valley and various American Legion posts.

Committee Selected

A. N. Multer, Arcadia delegate to the valley C. of C. unit and William Krebs, commander of the Glenn Dyer Post No. 247, American Legion, were named by President Dr. T. Howard Smith to contact the two divisions on the matter.

Responsibility of ownership of the 250 American flags used in Arcadiaa on holidays and special occasions today rested with the local Legion post, Dr. Smith revealed. The post will declare the days when the flags should be placed on the city streets.

Co-Directors Attend

Co-directors present last night included: Mrs. A. R. Chambers, Woman's Club; Multer, Arcadia Realty Board; Business Woman's Club, Miss Adeline V. Gagnon; rabbit industry, James Lovejoy; American Legion, Krebs; recreational center, Roy Tuttle and William McFarland.

NEW SECTION OF ARCADIA CLUB OPENING

Members of the Athletic section of the Arcadia Woman's club, one of the most active departments in the organization, will hold their first meeting of the year tomorrow morning at the clubhouse at 10 o'clock with a breakfast, which is open to the public, at 11:30 o'clock.

The breakfast, for which a very nominal charge is to be made, will be served under the direction of Mrs. Lloyd Austin, Mrs. Albert Angus, and Mrs. Marie Chambers. Those planning to attend are asked to make reservations at once with any one of the three.

Mrs. Dan Rose, section chairman, will preside over the business meeting at 10 o'clock.

These gatherings and breakfasts will be held once a month and any Monrovia or Arcadia woman interested is urged to attend. During the year tennis, tap dancing, swimming, and other sports will be featured.

GOING IN FOR STRENUOUS LIFE

ARCADIA CLUBWOMEN PLAN ALL-YEAR OUTDOOR PROGRAM

ARCADIA, Sept. 30.—Having the new Santa Anita County Recreation Park at their doors has inspired the Arcadia Women's Club athletic section to make plans for a year-round outdoor program.

Starting with a horseback ride along the double drive bridle trails, the section met at breakfast in the picnic patio of the park this morning. Under the leadership of Mrs. Dan Rose and her co-chairmen, Mrs. Glen Moore and Mrs. William Murphy, the group of more than forty women plan a series of events and matches that will keep them out of doors and in perfect trim from now on.

Golf on the new links, as soon as they are completed, swimming in the new pool as soon as the bath-house is finished, and tennis matches all are scheduled to take place in the park. Besides, there will be dancing, with instruction and classes at the clubhouse. A hiking division will make jaunts to near-by mountains and canyon spots.

Each separate division is to have a manager, Mrs. Rose announced. Plans include dance parties at the clubhouse and athletic competition with groups from other clubs.

The horseback division is arranging breakfasts following each morning canter.

The athletic section of the club has for its objective this year the building of an outdoor barbecue pit and patio adjoining the women's clubhouse.

Mrs. Ellison Will Direct Subject At Club

Mrs. Alrena B. Ellison, long a leader in civic welfare work in Arcadia, will direct the subject of Civic Welfare and Institutions for the Arcadia Woman's Club this year. Assisting her will be Mrs. Emmy Kaskel, Mrs. Babs Corby, Mrs. Eleanor Glasser and Mrs. Fred Miller.

At Christmas-time these club women will arrange for the distribution of gifts from the club to several institutions.

Under the leadership of district chairman for the Federation, Mrs. Leo A. Smith, pilgrimages to public institutions of the county will be conducted on the first Tuesday of each month.

The first will be to Olive View Sanitarium at 10 a. m., October 5th, the day before the opening of the local club. In the afternoon a visit will be made at El Retiro School for Girls, located near Olive View. Women will take their own sandwiches and will be served coffee at Olive View.

Arcadia Club Sets Opening Of 23rd Year

Mrs. Charles Stewart To Greet Members At Luncheon

ARCADIA, Oct. 4.—With the opening of the 23rd season of the Arcadia Woman's Club Wednesday, under the leadership of Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, a year studded with highlights and achievements is anticipated by club members.

Mrs. Stewart successfully guided the club's activities during the year 1934-35, establishing an outstanding record which, members believe, will be surpassed during the coming year.

Hardwood Floor Installed

When members convene Wednesday they will find a completely renovated clubhouse. A new storeroom has been built, the stage has been given a hardwood floor, the kitchen and auditorium have been painted and new drapes hung in the auditirium.

Old and new members will be welcomed by the executive board at the noon luncheon. Mrs. Ella Baughman, luncheon chairman, plans to accommodate a capacity attendance.

Entertainment during the luncheon hour will be provided by Janet Taylor, harpist.

'Portraits In Poetry'

Mrs. Wood Glover, program chairman, will present Ann Morrison and Frank Harford in "Portraits in Poetry" for the afternoon program.

Dues will be collected by Mrs. Mark G. Millspaugh, club treasurer

Decorations will be in charge of Mrs. Ray Pike and Mrs. Joe Hall.

To Assist In Receiving

Members of the executive board who will assist Mrs. Stewart in receiving are: Mrs. Juliet Renshaw, first vice-president; Mrs. Hermoine Beanston, second vice-president; Mrs. Ruth Harpole, recording secretary; Mrs. Lulu Reynolds, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Florence Boller, federation secretary; Mrs. Ina Millspaugh, treasurer; Mrs. May Glover, program chairman; Mrs. Bertha Larsh, Mrs. Fannie Needham, Mrs. Olive Hoffman, directors.

IN SECOND TERM

MRS CHARLES W. STEWART

To open the 23rd year of the Arcadia Woman's Club at luncheon Wednesday in the renovated clubhouse.

Arcadia Woman's Club Holds First Meeting Of Season

Wednesday noon, October 6th will be a gala occasion when the Arcadia Woman's club opens its fall season with a luncheon at the Clubhouse. Preparations are being made for a capacity crowd and luncheon reservations are being taken now. Mrs. Baughman is in charge of the luncheon.

Mrs. Stewart, president of the club reported that the guest cards will be ready for the members next Wednesday.

An interesting program is planned for the Wednesday meeting. Ann Morrison and Frank Hartford present their "Portraits in Poetry." Mr. Hanford composes accompaniments to suit the moods of Miss Morrison's poetry.

These two Southern Californians are well known to radio audiences. They are featured in the "Sunday Morning Review" over radio station KGFJ. Miss Morrison takes various feminine roles in the Sunday radio programs of the Park Commission over KEHE and the California radio system at 2 P. M. She also appears in "Your Witness" a coast to coast hook up of KNX and the Columbia broadcasting system at 10:15 p. m. on Wednesday's and appears in the daily serial "Modern Girl" over KEHE. Mr. Harford has written a number of songs, among them "Sing me a Song of the Saddle," and "Me and My Pal, My Pony."

The program Wednesday promises to be one of great interest.

Arcadia Woman's Club Opens With Capacity Attendance

The first regular meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club under the regime of its new president, Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, was held yesterday, and, commencing with a beautifully served luncheon at 12:15, was significant of the splendid year in store for the membership. Enthusiasm ran high as a capacity attendance, approximately one hundred twenty-five, enjoyed the luncheon and program. Every portion of the day's activity was timed from start to finish, so that there was no trace of confusion at any time.

Executives of the club were seated for luncheon at the President's table, decorated with a centerpiece of white pom-pom dahlias interspersed with a small red flower in a white bowl, and low, white swans filled with the same flowers at either end. Covers were laid for Mrs. Stewart, president; Mrs. John A. Renshaw, first vice president; Mrs. Keith Beanston, second vice president; Mrs. Eugene Harpole, recording secretary; Mrs. J. T. Reynolds, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ardene Boller, federation secretary; Mrs. Wood Glover, program chairman; Mrs. W. E. Larsh, Mrs. George Needham and Mrs. C. C. Hoffman, directors; Mrs. C. F. Noack, historian and Mrs. LeRoy Anderson, pianist.

New Members

Out of more than a score of women who have become new members this year, the following were seated at a special table and were introduced: Mrs. Rose Yarrow, Mrs. T. Frank Gillespie, Mrs. Edna Anderson, Mrs. Clyde Cannon, Mrs. Faithe Coombs, Mrs. C. F. Ganther, Mrs. Edward G. Marshall, Mrs. Margaret McMaster, Mrs. S. Z. Nichols, Mrs. Eugene L. Perry, Mrs. J. W. Schweisthal, and Mrs. Howard Smith.

Many Guests

Guests of the club were: Mesdames Hawkins, Upson, Kirk, Stackhouse, Round, Ashcraft, Wuirz, Fentrees, Van Horn, McNair, Gleason, Stoesser, Borg, Crellan, Bone, Wilson, Austin, Dahl, Cockshott, Reynolds of the Vista Club and Miss Gardner.

Mrs. Glen B. Watson, membership chairman, was introduced and she in turn introduced Mesdames Multer, Harris, Elliott, Lucas, Schouten and Miss Reynolds as her committee.

Luncheon Program

During the luncheon, Janet Taylor, accompanied harpist, played a group of well-chosen unannounced selections. The stage on which she played was decorated with baskets of autumn flowers, and was set with furniture, placed by Robert Sheehan of the Sheehan Furniture Company.

Luncheon tables were prettily decorated with mixed bouquets of garden flowers in white vases. In the foyer niche, a bouquet of pink larkspur had been placed by Mrs. Harry Nesbitt, honoring the memory of her mother, Mrs. Kathryn Mundy.

Business Meeting

At two o'clock, Mrs. Stewart called to order the business meeting of the club for the year. Following a Salute to the Flag, singing of America the Beautiful by the assemblage and reading of the Constitution's Preamble by Mrs. Frances Needham, the president greeted the membership and guests in her particularly gracious manner. As she stood, attractive in a long afternoon dress of black moire, she was presented with a bouquet of yellow rose-buds from a secret sister.

Mrs. Watson reported on activities of the membership committee and announced the goal as 100 new members during the year. She also reported on the building of the store-room. Mrs. A. L. Parker reported for herself and Mrs. Roy Pike on the redecoration of the clubhouse interior and the renovation of the lawn.

ARCADIA

ARCADIA, Oct. 7.—Twelve new members were welcomed into the Arcadia Women's Club at its first fall meeting held yesterday with Mrs. Jessie O. Stewart, president, presiding.

New Members included Mesdames Rose Yarrow, Rita Gillespie, Edna Anderson, Anne Cannon, Faithe Coombs, Caroline Ganther, Edith Marshall, Margaret McMaster Jeannette Nichols, Margaret Perry, Dorothy Schweisthal and Howard Smith.

Incidental music during the luncheon was played by Janet Taylor, harpist.

The afternoon program entitled "Portraits in Poetry," was presented by Ann Morrison and Frank Harford.

President

Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, president of the Arcadia Woman's Club, who presided over the first meeting in the 1937-38 year, held at the beautifully redecorated clubhouse yesterday afternoon.

Portraits in Poetry

Ann Morrison and Frank Harford, guest artists of the afternoon, presented a program titled "Portraits in Poetry." Having 33 weeks of radio broadcasting as a background, the pair offered a delightful series of pianologues, Mr. Harford playing the piano while Miss Morrison gave readings. Included were: "Timothy Todd," "Mother's Whims," two by Louie Untemeyer, "Dad" and "Pantomime of the Gold Mines," "Fancies of a Bride-to-be," "Advice from an Old Maid Aunt," "Courtin' Days," 'The Old Story" by E. Robinson and "Being Something" by Harry B. Smith.

Fifteen Members Admitted By Arcadia Women

Fifteen new members were welcomed into the membership of the Arcadia Woman's club yesterday afternoon at the first meeting of the season and half that many applications for membership were read.

The auditorium of the club house was filled to capacity to greet the president, Mrs. Chas. W. Stewart, who resumes leadership again after a period of two years. There was a marked enthusiasm on the part of everybody in anticipation of the year ahead.

During the luncheon hour new members and the many guests were introduced by the president who was seated with her entire board members at a flowered decked table.

Janet Taylor entertained with harp music during luncheon. The attractive stage furniture and decorations with the freshly decorated club house interior created most favorable comment.

Mrs. Stewart took as the theme of her message to club members, the club women's collect. This has been printed in the year book as a gentle reminder to club women of the virtues that create a bigger and finer spirit in all life.

Ann Morrison and Frank Harford, in "Portraits in Poetry," presented a most delightful and refreshing afternoon program.

They were introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. Wood Glover.

The president's table, past president's table as well, as the smaller ones carried out the rust color scheme. Mrs. Helen Hall was in charge of decorations. An old Mexican clay bell was used to call the meeting to order.

Mrs. Glenn Watson was luncheon chairman, assisted by her committee, Mmes. Betty Warner, Verona Young, Isabelle Evans, Maybelle Moore and Sarah Wilson.

Mrs. Carl Randolph, program chairman, gave many interesting topics on Current events. A brief business session was held at 2 o'clock preceded by the singing of "America, the Beautiful," Mrs. LeRoy Anderson at the piano. Mrs. Coombs lead the club in a salute to the flag.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Willey that a series of desert bridge parties would start the third Thursday in November at 1 o'clock, with November 13th set aside for the Flower Show to be held Saturday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Edith Rose, athletic department chairman, announced that they would have horseback riding and tennis.

Mrs. Marie Chambers then introduced Mrs. Queenie Arklin who was dressed in Spanish costume, sang, "La Paloma" and "Estrellita," accompanied by Mrs. Peck. Mary Stoker danced two beautiful Spanish numbers. Rosemary Clark from the high school, did two clever monologues.

The past presidents then came in dressed as pirates, carrying their loot in an old chest, singing pirate songs, throwing their loot which was a kitchen shower for the club, into the audience. After leaving their "loot" they left shooting pistols and throwing knives.

Festive Mexican Motif At Meeting of Woman's Club

A Mexican theme . . . exemplified by colorful native baskets and rugs . . . bouquets of rust colored dahlias and a program of typical songs and dances . . . was carried through the entire second meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club, held yesterday, with president Mrs. Charles W. Stewart presiding.

100 Attend

More than one hundred members and guests were served luncheon at 12:15 by Mrs. Glen B. Watson and her committee: Mrs. Charles Warner, Mrs. W .A. Young, Mrs. R. W. Evans, Mrs. Glenn H. Moore and Mrs. Clara Wilson. Gay rust dahlias were centerpieces for each table. On the piano was a huge all-white bouquet of chrysanthemums placed by Mrs. Rowley of the Santa Anita Flower Shop.

Chairmen Introduced

Calling order with a Mexican clay-bell from her personal collection, Mrs. Stewart introduced section chairmen, seated at her table, as follows: Mrs. Nellie White, garden; Mrs. F. C. Ingram, Literature; Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff, California History and Landmarks; Mrs. Dan Rose, athletic; Mrs. Frances Needham, drama; Mrs. Ruth Chandler, International relations; Mrs. Helen Sparks, handcrafts.

Many Guests

Guests introduced were: Mesdames Allen West, P. Smith, Juanita Bunting, J. R. Peacher, P. Sands, Edgar Reid, Charles Holmgreen, W. A. Spence, Harold Raudenbush, E. C. Aspey.

Past President's Day

Honoring them on their special day, Mrs. Watson seated past presidents of the club at a special table, from which they were introduced by the president. Out of fifteen who have capably led the organization since its inception, nine were present, including Mrs. Stewart, who served in 1934-35. The eight were Mrs. C. L. Dunham, Mrs. Nellie Pickard, Mrs. Nellie A. White, Mrs. W. G. Lewis, Mrs. Mattie B. Peck, Mrs. G. G. Meade, Mrs. Marion Pike and Mrs. J. L. Byrne.

Current Events

Mrs. Carl Randolph offered an interesting assortment of current events, starting with the "undeclared war between Japan and China" and its effect on the United States through trade channels. Another was an announcement that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce will launch a series of ten radio programs in which American industry, art and literature, moving pictures, recreational centers and various activity will be advertised. An amusing note was brought when Mrs. Randolph told of the latest in Egyptian advertising schemes, the placing of electric signs on the famed Pyramids.

Among announcements made at the two o'clock business meeting was one by Mrs. Charles Willey, to the effect that a series of club card parties will get underway on Thursday, November 4. Mrs. Nellie White chairman of the garden section, announced the annual flower show. to be held this year on the afternoon and evening of November 13.

Mexican Program

Opening the afternoon program, Mrs. Queenie Arklin, soprano sang "La Poloma" and "Estrellita." In costume, with her long black hair hanging Mexican fashion down her back, Mrs. Arklin was a charming picture.

Miss Mary Stoker favored with two delightful Spanish dances. Dressed in a green velvet gown, she danced the "Malaguena" from the Spanish suite Andalucia by Ernesto Lecuona. For "El Vito" by S. Lope' she wore a full-skirted red frock and used castenets. Mrs. Mattie Peck accompanied both artists at the piano.

Miss Rosemary Clark, high school student, charmed with a pair of monologues :— "Back-seat Flying" and "Carlotta Mia."

A novel and exciting close to the afternoon was the "fall shower" presented by the past presidents under the leadership of Mrs. Meade and Mrs. Byrne. Attired in pirate garb, the women mached into the auditorium, singing a blood-thirsty song and carrying a treasure chest. On reaching the president's desk, they opened the chest, flung handfuls of "loot" to the assemblage and piled the treasure before the president. Every article was a needed utensil for the newly-painted kitchen. Then turning, the pirates marched out again, waving cutlasses and shooting pistols, much to the merriment of all present.

Women Riders Breakfast At Chinese Cafe

The athletic section of the Woman's Club celebrated with a breakfast at the new Kwong Chew Cafe following their ride on Thursday morning. The women ride from nine to ten, the majority riding in the ring with instruction. This group of the athletic section is an enthusiastic one and is steadily gaining new members. Anyone interested may ride on Thursday morning with the group announces Mrs. Dan Rose but reservations must be made the night before with Mr. Harris at the Santa Anita Riding Academy.

Mexican Program Featured At Woman's Club

Mexican decoraions, Mexican songs and dances predominated at the second meeting of the Woman's Club on Wednesday afternoon at the clubhouse. Over 100 members were present for this gala event.

At the luncheon which was served at 12:15 by Mrs. Glen Watson and her committee, the past presidents nine in number were seated at a separate table. With the exception of the president Mrs. Stewart who so ably led this organization in 1934-35 the women seated about the table were Mrs. C. L. Dunham, Mrs. Nellie Pickard, Mrs. Nellie A. White, Mrs. W. G. Lewis, Mrs. Mattie B. Peck, Mrs. G. G. Meade, Mrs. Marion Pike and Mrs. J. L. Byrne.

During luncheon hour Mrs. Carl Randolph gave a currrent event talk.

At the business meeting at 2 o'clock Mrs. Charles Willey announced a series of card parties to begin soon and Mrs. Nellie White reported on the annual flower show to be held November 13.

Dressed in a Mexican costume Mrs. Queenie Arklin opened the club program by singing "La Paloma" and "Estrel.ita". Miss Mary Stoker followed the singer presenting two charming Spanish dances. Both of these guest artists were accompanied by Mrs. Mattie Peck at the piano.

Two monologues were read by a high school student, Miss Rosemary Clark.

Last on the program was the surprise event whcih proved to be a "fall shower" presented by the past presidents. Dressed in pirate garb the women marched into the room carrying a chest laden with gifts and singing a blood-thirsty song with Mrs. Meade and Mrs. Byrne in the lead. Carrying the chest to the president's desk they opened the lid and dsiclosed a number of much needed utensils for the club kitchen.

The same army of pirates then retreated brandishing cutlasses and firing pistols.

California History Section Holds First Meeting

Beneath a pepper tree at the home of Mrs. R. H. Schwarzkopf, 904 West Huntington drive, members of the California History and Landmarks Section of the Arcadia Woman's Club held its first meeting of the season, yesterday, with twenty-three in attendance. Last year's officers will serve the group again this year, namely, Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff, chairman, Mrs. J. J. McFarlane, vice-chairman, Mrs. R. H. Schwarzkopf, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. George H. Barngrover, press.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Timerhoff presiding, the group voted to purchase a scrapbook in which they will preserve clippings, notes or papers pertaining to California history.

The theme of yesterday's session was in keeping with Admission Day. The chairman briefly outlined facts of California's admission to the Union. Mrs. MacFarlane gave a resume of the section's visit in August to the Hollywood home of Mrs. E. M. Rush, writer and authority on Indian legendary lore, and a girl-hood friend of Mrs. Timerhoff.

A number of interesting papers were read as follows: Mrs. M. G. Millspaugh on the 154th birthday of Los Angeles; Mrs. McFarlane—Little Horcasitas of San Miguel in Sonora, Mexico—known as the mother city of California; Mrs. J. Stoker, the first automobile; Mrs. Barngrover, the beginnings of Fort Sutter; Mrs. Schwarzkopf, facts about California; Mrs. John Renshaw, a few highlights of California history during the Spanish era.

In her talk on "a tourists' impression of China," Miss Eva Reynolds told of her visit to Hong Kong, Canton, Shanghai and Peking.

At the conclusion of the meeting, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The menu and decorative scheme stressed the Hallowe'en motif.

The second meeting of the section will be held November 24 at the home of Mrs. Ethel Rubottom, 406 Longden avenue.

Mrs. C. F. Noack Heads Luncheon Committee

Announcement is made today that Mrs. C. F. Noack will be luncheon chairman for the next meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club, scheduled for Wednesday, November 3. City officials and members of the press are to be guests. Reservations may be made by phoning Mrs. Noack at 252 or Mrs. Baughman at 8871.

Mrs. Nellie A. White has requested that at the close of the meeting, members of the Garden Section meet with her at the clubhouse.

Woman's Club President Attends Conference

The First Los Angeles District's first Presidents' conference of the year for club presidents will be held this Friday morning in the Architects Building in Los Angeles. Mrs. Charles Stewart, president of the Arcadia Woman's Club, will attend this meeting. There are three such affairs scheduled during the club year reported Mrs. Charles Stewart and these are greatly enjoyed by all the club presidents attending.

Mrs. John Stearns Thayer will preside at the meeting. A luncheon will be served at same building under the direction of Mrs. Alan Dibble, District Headquarters Director in charge of the Club Ways and Means Project.

Delightful Section Meeting Held At Schwarzkopf's

The first meeting of the History and Landmarks Section met Wednesday afternoon of this week at the home of Mrs. R. H. Schwrazkopf at 904 West Huntington Drive beneath an old umbrageous pepper tree.

Mrs. Emilie Timerhoff presided over the business meeting at which it was decided to keep a scrap book of historic clippings of California. Mrs. James Bone a new member of the club will take charge of this project.

A number of interesting papers were given. Mrs. Mark Millspaugh discussed the "154th Birthday of Los Angeles."

Mrs. J. N. MacFarlane presented a paper on "Little Horcasitas of San Miguel in Sonora, Mexico, the Mother City of California."

Mrs. J. Stoker talked on "The First Automobile," and Mrs. G. H. Barnsgrover gave a paper on "The Beginnings of Fort Sutter."

Mrs. R. H. Schwarzkopf presented "Facts About California" and Mrs. John A. Renshaw talked on "A Few Highlights of California History During the Spanish Era."

Mrs. J. N. MacFarlane gave a short resume of the sections visit in August to the studio home of Mrs. Mattie Rousch of HollyWood, a writer of note and an authority on Indian legendary lore.

Miss Eva Reynolds entertained the women with her tourist impressions of China.

Carrying out the Hallowe'en motif the most delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Schwarzkopf assisted by Mrs. Elsie Murfett and Mrs. Minnie Hookway to the 25 women present.

It was announced that Mrs. Ethel Rubottom of 406 Longden avenue will be the next hostess in November.

Arcadia Woman's Club To Meet Next Wednesday

Next Wednesday will be "Civic Day" at the Woman's Club with the program to be announced later. Luncheon reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Nettie Noack at 252 or Mrs. Ella Baughman, 8871.

Mrs. Nellie A. White has announced that she wishes the Garden Section to meet with her immediately following the luncheon.

President Of Woman's Club Guest At El Monte

Woman's Club Announces Series Of Card Parties

Announcement was made today by Mrs. Charles Willey, chairman of the building fund of the Arcadia Woman's Club, of a series of benefit card parties to be given during the winter season. The first affair, Mrs. Willey informed the press will be given on Thursday, November 18, at the clubhouse, and will be in the form of a dessert-bridge.

PUBLIC INVITED

At each of the affairs, dates to be revealed later, Arcadians and out-of-towners as well will be cordially invited. Each, with Mrs. Willey as general chairman and assisted by an enthusiastic committee, will be outstanding as a social function.

Prizes Given

Two beautiful paintings, copies from original masterpieces, will be awarded as first prizes in contract and auction bridge. The paintings, to be exhibited at Becker's dress shop, were donated by Mrs. Frank Beam, a member of the Woman's Club.

Further details of the first party and the entire committee will be revealed by Mrs. Willey from time to time. The clubhouse, newly redecorated before the opening of the club season, will be a delightful setting for the affairs, and those in charge are looking forward to a large attendance at each.

MONROVIA NEWS-POST,

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1937

Mrs. Frederick L. Walker, president of the Woman's club, and Mrs. Charles Stewart, president of the Arcadia Woman's club, attended a meeting yesterday of presidents of the district held at Woman's Athletic club in Los Angeles.

Community Flower Show For Arcadia

New and unique features which will attract crowds at the "Community Flower Show" to be staged at the Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse on November 13 by the Garden Section of the Club, are being arranged by Mrs. F. H. White and her enthusiastic committee.

For artistic merit, rare beauty and charm this will be the outstanding affair of the year, on the calendar of the Arcadia Woman's Club.

Entries of rare plants and flowers are particularly solicited and everyone in Arcadia is extended a cordial invitation to exhibit at the show. There will be no entrance fees.

The entire membership of the Garden Section will constitute a reception committee who will graciously welcome all, and present each visitor with a dainty floral favor. The one drawing the lucky number will receive a lovely door prize and it is hinted that there will be a worth while contest in which those who attend will be the judges. In addition to plants and flowers a novel display of fruits and vegetables as complete as that at the County Fair is being planned. Visitors will enjoy an exhibit of the lowly weed as a demonstration of the hidden beauty that may be found in common things. Orchestra music both afternoon and evening will add another attractive note.

The affair will be open to the public.

Landmark And History Section Hold Election

The regular monthly session of the California History and Landmark section of the Women's club was held at the home of Mrs. Richard Evans of 48 West Valnett. Mrs. Evan's daughter, Louise, and Mrs. Jefferson Byrne assisted the hostess.

Mrs. E. E. Timerhoff presided during the business session in the absence of Mrs. R. H. Schwarzkopf. Mrs. James Stoker acted as secretary pro tem.

Report Given

The address of Dr. Charles H. Titus, professor of Political Science at U. C. L. A. given at the recent session of the California History and Landmark section of the Los Angeles Women's club was reported by the chairman. She quoted Dr. Titus as saying that the university, congress and election were all landmarks we are creating and sustaining for the present and future, because what history teaches us is of the past.

The chairman also reported of the convention at the Biltmore ballroom and the program of "Opera Vignettes" from the State Emeritus Club-C. F. W. C. of which she is a member.

Report of the section's financial status was made, and it was decided to present $5.00 to the club.

An invitation to join the Los Angeles club on June 9, was received and the decision as to acceptance was deferred until later. The usual potluck lunch at the Timerhoff home was decided upon for June 8. Each member is to bring some brief highlight personally gained during the season.

Clippings for the book were brought by Mrs. Renshaw and Mrs. Rubottom.

During the program Mrs. Millspaugh read an article on Ranch Santa Gertrudes and Mrs. Rubottom one on Rancho San Pasqual. Miss E. Schermerhorn's resume of the serial, "The Romance of Santa Anita" which appeared in the Tribune was postponed until the next session because of Miss Schermerhorn's absence.

Resume Given

Mrs. Blanche Schoaf, a visitor, and a member of the Shakespeare Club of Pasadena gave a brief account of their recent session of the California History and Landmark section.

After the meeting Mrs. Byrne poured at the table where cool and delicious refreshments were served.

Attend Meeting

Present at the session were Mesdames: Blanche Schoaf, H. Rickett, E. L. Perry, B. E. Rubottom, M. G. Millspaugh, H. N. Rose, J. M. MacFarlane, J. Byrne, J. Renshaw, G. Barnglover, J. Stoker, R. D. Civic Day At Womans' Club Outstanding Event

Several city officials and representatives of the press were special guests at yesterday's luncheon-meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club. Seated at the speaker's table and introduced by President Mrs. Charles W. Stewart were Councilmen C. C. Hoffman, Lewis T. McLean and E. R. Hudson, Fire Chief John S. Eshelman, City Attorney William R. Elam, Wm. Blair, managing editor of the Pasadena Post, A. Harold Noon, owner-publisher of the Arcadia Tribune, Mrs. Lois Sharkey and Mrs. Pat James, society editors of the Tribune and the Arcadia News, Mrs. May E. Glover, program chairman, and her luncheon speaker, Mrs. Ellwood K. Lightholder. Mrs. Genevieve Nutter, also of the Tribune staff, was a guest of Mrs. John A. Renshaw.

Guests Respond

After being introduced, the City officials, Mr. Blair and Mr. Noon responded briefly. With rounds of applause, clubmembers pledged their wholehearted support in the attempt to keep Arcadia a clean city.

Luncheon Committee

A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. C. F. Noack and her committee: Mrs. Edward Kaurin, Mrs. John Murfett, Mrs. J. L. Kohler, Mrs. O. L. Newell and Mrs. J. Thompson. Tables were bright with yellow and white and dusty pink bouquets of "mums" in pottery bowls. Deep orange dahlias and chrysanthemums decorated the stage and the niche held a vase of pale pink dahlias.

Speaker

Mrs. Lightholder, president of Los Angeles County Federation, introduced by Mrs. Stewart, spoke on Civic Needs, stressing facts in the control of the "liquor situation." Stating that federated women in a community may accomplish a great deal toward keeping out the undesirable element, Mrs. Lightholder urged that they be ever on the alert to protect the young people, that they work with the supervisors and the Equalization Board, which controls the issuance of liquor licenses.

Business Meeting

During the 2 o'clock business meeting, Mrs. Ardene Boller presented a resolution for the adoption of the new junior section, and it was unanimously accepted by the club.

The resignation of Mrs. Glover as program chairman was regretfully accepted. One hundred new dinner plates, pie plates and cups in a lovely Spanish tan with brown design, and twelve dozen amber glasses were purchased for the club kitchen. Mrs. Glen Watson "shopped" for the dishes.

Monthly treasurer's report was read by Mrs. M. G. Millspaugh. Mrs. Boller reported on two Federation conferences, one on September 16 and the other October 21. Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff reported her attendance at the first District California History and Landmarks Conference, and the first meeting of the local section. Mrs. Nellie A. White invited members to the Garden Section's Flower Show on Saturday, November 13, and read an invitation to the Cascade Chrysanthemum show to be put on by the Sierra Madre Club on Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Wistaria Gardens.

Mrs. John Kaskel, speaking for the Welfare committee, announced that on Thanksgiving and Christmas of this year, the Club will concentrate on Arcadia families.

Vocal Program

Mrs. Sally Caroline Drewes, mezzo soprano, sang two lovely numbers, "Song of the Soul" and "An Old-Fashioned Town," then favored with a delightful monologue, "Naming the Children." "On the Road," Clarence E. Flynn's poem, followed and as a conclusion, Mrs. Drewes She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Percy Olds.

Announce Speaker For President's Council

Mrs. Duncan S. Robinson, President California Federation of Women's Club, is to be the principal speaker at the morning session of the Presidents' Council of Los Angeles District, C.F.W.C., to be held at the Pasadena Shakespeare Club, 230 South Los Robles Avenue, Pasadena, at 10:00 a. m. Wednesday, November 10. Mrs. John Stearns Thayer, District President, will preside, and the Pasadena Shakespeare Club, Mrs. Arthur P. Will, President, will be hostess.

A patriotic program is planned in observance of Armistice Day falling on the next day. Unit 206 of the Highland Park American Legion Auxiliary will present a flag drill at the morning session.

In the afternoon, Dr. John B. Appleton of Scripps College, Claremont, will give an address on "Peace and War—Ideals and Realities." Dr. Appleton has had broad training in the fields of geography, economics, political science, and international relations. He has traveled extensively through Europe and the Orient, is a graduate of the London School of Economics and Political Science, University of London, and has written numerous articles dealing with economic and current international problems.

Music will be furnished by Carolyn Thomson and Walter Eyre in duets and solos, accompanied by Robert Flack, and the Pasadena Junior College will present several young people in various vocal numbers.

Luncheon accommodations in the club house are limited, so reservations must be in by Monday, November 8, with Mrs. B M. Johnston, 712 No. Seward Avenue., Hollywood, GRanite 8943, or with Mrs. Paul B. Troth, 352 No. Los Robles Ave., Pasadena, Terrace 2211.

Flower Show Tops Club's Bill For Week

Outsanding on next week's calendar of civic and social events in Arcadia will be the annual Flower Show, sponsored by the Garden Section of the Woman's Club . . . prsented at the clubhouse on Saturday afternoon and evening, November 13. Every effort is being made to make this year's exhibit the most attractive in the history of the organization.

Chrysanthemums of all sizes and hues will vie with delicately tinted roses. There will be a marvelous display of prize-winning dahlias, rare plants, shrubs and flowers of every known variety that can be grown in Arcadia soil.

Space will be given over to the Fox Begonia and Rare Plant Gardens for a display of Rex and tuberous rooted begonias. Even the lowly weed will have its place in a unique arrangement.

Mrs. Nellie A. White, chairman of the Garden Section and general chairman of the Flower Show has announced that there will be no price for entries in the show, and no admission fee. Every ctiizen of Arcadia is invited to enter flowers for exhibition. There will be a dainty floral favor for each attending the show and a door prize will be awarded.

Arcadians should set aside November 13 at "flower show day" and make it a point to visit this outstanding contribution to the city beautiful movement now taking place in so many Southern California cities. It is a forward step by the Garden Section in making Arcadia a city of beautiful homes and gardens.

Organize Junior Section To Woman's Club

For the first time in its history, the Arcadia Woman's Club has a junior section. The need for such an organization . . . long felt in the community . . . was filled Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Eugene Harpole, when under the direction of Mrs. Charles W. Stewart and Mrs. Ardene Boller, twenty-one Arcadia young women organized the club and made plans for the future.

Miss Eleanor Lucas served as temporary chairman of the group and Miss Dorothy Leslie as secretary-treasurer, election of officers to be held at a later date.

Regular meetings of the new club are to be held on the third Thursday of each month, the first to be a get-together at the home of Miss Edith Eckman, 1500 South First Avenue. Subsequent sessions will be held at the clubhouse. As their objective, the girls chose intellectual and civic improvement, and for their first venture will assist the Arcadia Fire Department in their toy drive at Christmastime.

Members are to be not younger than eighteen or past 30 when joining. For charter members, the two dollar membership fee required by the senior group has been waived, the three dollar dues covering membership for one year. Juniors will have the privilege of attending any meeting of the Woman's Club or any of its sections.

Mrs. John Hostutler, Mrs. Dorothy Schweisthal and Mrs. Harold W. Johns were chosen by the girls to serve as sponsors, one of the women to attend each meeting. A set of simple regulations will be drawn up and presented for adoption by an appointed committee: Misses Jean Youngken, Virginia Brown, Lois Mann and Mrs. Genevieve Nutter.

At the Tuesday evening meeting, Miss Norma Parks, talented violinist, favored with three selections—"Intermezzo" by Bizet; a Bach number and Brahm's "Cradle Song."

At the close of the evening, Mrs. Harpole served dainty refreshments to the following: Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, Mrs. Harold W. Johns Mrs. Ardene Boller, Mrs. John Hostutler, Mrs. Dorothy Schweisthal; Misses Constance Ellison, Belle Royal, Virginia Brown, Dorothy Walters, Elinor Hoagland, Lois Mann, Jean Youngken, Norma Parks, Ruth Wilson, Dorothy Leslie, Carol Vassalo, Grace Mitchell, Dorothy Mitchell, Kay Barngrover, Edith Ekman, Virginia Hostutler, Katherine Kirk, Eleanor Lucas, Mrs. Irene Bachman, Mrs. Anne Leigh, Mrs. Genevieve Nutter and Mrs. Lois Sharkey, the latter two of the Tribune staff.

Flower Display Opens Today In Arcadia

ARCADIA, Nov. 12.—Garden enthusiasts plan to attend the annual flower show of the garden section of the Women's Club which opens this afternoon and evening at the clubhouse, 324 South First Avenue.

Every effort has been made to have this year's exhibit the most attractive in the history of the organization, according to Mrs. Nellie White, chairman.

Chrysanthemums of all shades will vie with delicately-tinted roses, and a display of prize-winning dahlias, and rare plants and shrubs grown in Arcadia will add to the colorful show.

In addition, there will be a display of rex and tuberous-rooted begonias from the Fox Begonia and Rare Plant Gardens.

There will be no admission charge and no entry fees for displays.

An orchestra will play during the show.

Plans Progressing For Dessert-Bridge Party

Mrs. Charles Willey, as general chairman, and a capable committee have this week completed plans for the first in a series of parties to benefit the Arcadia Woman's Club. The party will be given at the clubhouse on Thursday November 18.

Committee K

Assisting Mrs. Willey and present at recent board meeing held at her apartment in the Freeta, were Mrs. Elizabeth Ingram, Mrs. Ina Mills-Paugh, Mrs. Edith Roberts and Mrs. Adele Nesbitt.

Dessert Bridge

This first party will be a dessert bridge to start at 1 o'clock. Comtract and auction will be played and prizes awarded. A lovely door prize will be given, Mrs. Willey has announced. Already, before definite announcements have been made, reservations have been taken by several women to entertain three or four tables of friends.

Clubmembers are urged to contact their friends who live in other cities inviting them to the party. A "full house" is expected.

Planning Dance

The bridge party committee will assist Mrs. Willey with preparations for the dance, to be staged at the clubhouse on December 3. The Shumard Rhythm Boys will furnish music, Mrs. Willey announces. Information about the dance will appear in the Tribune from time to time.

Clubwomen At Presidents' Council

Fourteen Arcadia clubwomen attended the November meeting of Los Angeles District Federation presidents' council, held yesterday at the Shakespeare Club in Pasadena. The assemblage of 682 persons represented clubwomen from distant points in California and from several other states. District presidents Mrs. John Stearns Thayer presided.

A splendid musical program was presented by students of Pasadena Junior College. In observance of Armistice Day, a group of old war songs were given.

Mrs. Duncan S. Robinson, president of the California Federation of Women's Club, was speaker for the morning session. Her talk was an inspiring and forcible plea for women to lead the way to peace . . . to concentrate on wise training of youth today. She said in part—"We are constantly studying to help to build for the finer things of tomorrow. Leadership and "followship" is shown in every group, and should end with fellowship."

Dr. John Appleton, world traveler and professor at Scripps College, gave an address on present world conditions, especially that of China and Japan. He pointed out the fact that sginificant causes for conflict arise from economic differences due to living conditions becoming more and more complicated.

Attending from Arcadia were Mesdames Charles W. Stewart, president of the Woman's Club, C. C. Hoffman, William G. Lewis, Mark G. Millspaugh, Eugene Harpole, G. G. Meade, Ardene Boller, John Murfett, John A. Renshaw, A. N. Multer, LeRoy Anderson, Nellie A. White, J. D. Stanley and Harvey Moss.

Flower Show Tops All Former Efforts of Section

More than three hundred persons Arcadians and interested visitors from all over San Gabriel Valley . . . proclaimed the 12th annual Flower Show, presented Saturday afternoon and evening by the Garden Section of the Arcadia Woman's Club the best in its history. Mrs. Nellie A. White, section chairman, was general chairman of the show.

Contest Entries

Those attending the show acted as judges of individual entries, most of which were arranged on a center table. Mrs. W. S. Hull of Sierra Madre won first prize for her Japanese arrangement in a flat white dish of dark green leaves and white button "mums" against several shoots of papyrus. Honorable mention went to Mrs. Browder for her colorful basket of mixed perennials and to Mrs. S. L. Chase for her bouquet of yellow and orange marigolds, grown for the show. Mrs. Alyce Anderson of Sierra Madre won the door prize, a growing heather plant.

Of special interest were two displays by Mrs. Bonner of Alhambra, brought in too late to be entered, with a white wooden screen fence as a back-ground, she arranged a white madonna statuette, three round pom-pom "mums" and tiny buttons in a flat white dish most effectively. The other was of pink roses, tightly bunched in the center of a crystal bowl—six thin pink tapers in crystal stair holders arranged behind.

Elizabeth L. Schermerhorn arranged two entries . . . the most outstanding called "autumn banquet" and fashioned of fruit and vegetables on a huge aralia leaf The other was an aralia leaf holding two stems with tightly closed buds.

The daintiest exhibit at the show, an entry by Mrs. Cockshott, was an old-fashioned nosegay. Other entries were attractive arrangements of chrysanthemums, dahlias, baby zinnias and roses.

Weed Glorified

Mrs. J. D. Stanley and Mrs. Harvey Moss received congratulations for their glorification of the lowly weed. On a yellow cloth was a centerpice formed of brass bowl with dark brown weed bouquet, rim of persimmons and huge white grapes. In brass candelabra, persimmon-colored candles brought out the color-theme, the wide assortment of weeds, arranged on the table.

Vegetable Table

Miss Grace McCurdy's vegetable table was the most clever display of the lot. There were book ends of egg-plant, pigs made from fat yams, rubies and pearls of cranberries and onions, a doll with a red cabbage skirt, radish-roses, bouquet of celery, marrots cut into fancy shapes and persimmons growing from a miniature tree.

A whole table of red roses in every variety imaginable was in charge of Mrs. A. L. Parker and represented gleanings from her home garden. She also brought a beautiful bouquet or orchid cactus dahlias. The R. L. McCray nurseries brought a table of mixed roses and one of chrysanthemums.

Mrs. J. N. MacFarlane arranged a symphony in silver, blue and white, using a silver table cover, white chrysanthemums and blue glass, burning candles and a mirror as background. Mrs. MacFarlane was responsible for many lovely arrangements of dahlias and "mums".

Mrs. J. D. Stanley filled three white swans with red, rust and yellow baby "mums" and greengery . . . there were perennials and annuals of every kind . . . single and double dahlias in green vase, arranged by Mrs. S. L. Chase.

Cascades

Mrs. J. W. Lawless of the Sierra Madre Wistaria Gardens exhibited 3 beautiful Cascade Chrysanthemums plants . . . red radiance, yellow and orchid mist . . . which attracted a great deal of attention.

Nursery Displays

Mr. and Mrs. Fox of the Fox Begonia Gardens filled a corner of the auditorium with their prized tuberous and Rex begonias and other rare plants. Beautiful were the Gesnera and Cyclamen Begonias and dwarf French Hydrangea, all blooming. Chief among really plants was the Hawaiian Caladium, and most rare, the Mexican creeping orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ramuz of the Arcadia Nursery displayed a new type of heather, spidey chrysanthemum, a plant called "Princess Picconia" with a generous deep purple bloom and various other plants.

Courtesy Displays

Mr. Joe Becker of Becker's Dress Shop presented a lovely basket of white and gold chrysanthemums Mrs. W. L. Bowley from Santa Anita Flower Shop sent a mixed bouquet as a gift to Mrs. White.

Flower Show In Arcadia Successful

Mrs. W. S. Hull Wins First Prize For Composition

ARCADIA, Nov. 15.—Acclaimed by garden enthusiasts as one of the outstanding floral exhibits of the season, the 12th annual flower show of the garden section of the Women's Club held Saturday at the clubhouse attracted more than 300 persons.

Entries were exhibited not only from Arcadia gardens, but from neighboring communities, indicating the wide interest mainfested in the event.

Mrs. W. S. Hull of Sierra Madre won first prize for a Japanese composition of dark green leaves in a flat white dish with white button chrysanthemums against several shoots of papyrus.

Honorable mention went to Mrs. C. Browder for a colorful basket of mixed perennials and to Mrs. S. L. Chase for her bouquet of yellow and orange marigolds, grown especially for the show.

Mrs. Alyce Anderson of Sierra Madre won the door prize.

Mrs. Bonner of Alhambra displayed two compositions which attracted attention. One was centered on a white madonna statuette and the other was of pink roses.

Elizabeth L. Schermerhorn was commended for her entries, one an "autumn banquet" and the other an aralia leaf holding two stems with tightly closed buds.

Mrs. C. Cockshott exhibited the daintiest entry, as old-fashioned nosegay.

Three cascade chrysanthemums from the Wistaria Vine Gardens in Sierra Madre, in addition to other colorful "mums" of all varieties, dahlias, baby zinnias and roses contributed to the brilliant display.

Mrs. Nellie White was general chairman, assisted by a corps of aids.

THREE EVENTS AT ARCADIA WOMAN'S CLUB

Members of the Arcadia Woman's club have three big events this week of special interest to them. Today the meeting was preceded by an all states luncheon at 12:30 when the members were seated according to their native states and responded to two minute stunts when the roll of states was called by the chairman, Mrs. John Renshaw. Mrs. Jerry Voorhis was the luncheon speaker.

A dessert bridge party will be held at the clubhouse Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Charles Willey is chairman.

This is the first of a series of similar parties to be given for the club building fund. Attractive prizes are to be given at each party and a grand contest prize at the end of the series will go to the hostess who has achieved the greatest success financially.

Climaxing the club affairs for the week will be the dinner party for the club husbands on Friday night in the club house. The long tables will be attractively decorated with the Thanksgiving theme arranged by Mrs. Roy Pike. Mrs. Henry Behm has selected something different for the dinner menu. Singing will be led by John Vanderbur with Mrs. G. J. Hamilton accompanying.

A character song recital will be presented by Leslie Brigham, the well-known concert baritone soloist.

Juniors of Club Meet Thursday Evening

Miss Edith Ekman's home at 1500 South First Avenue, will be the setting tomorrow evening for the first regular meeting of the newly organized Junior Section of the Arcadia Woman's Club.

The meeting will be in the form of a get-together, due to the fact that the clubhouse, where subsequent monthly sessions will be held, was already promised to another organization.

The girls, with Miss Eleanor Lucas as temporary chairman and Miss Dorothy Leslie temporary secretary-treasurer, will discuss plans for assistance with the Christmas toy drive, put on annually by the Arcadia Fire Department, and the subject of dressing dolls for the drive will be taken up. An outlined set of rules will be presented by a committee for adoption by the group.

Misses Elinor Hoagland and Dorothy Walters will be in charge of games. Girls are reminded to bring a portion of their three dollar dues if possible.

Members who attended the organization meeting at the home of Mrs. Eugene Harpole on Tuesday evening, November 2, are reminded of their privilege to bring a friend whom they wish to sponsor, and those who have not notified the hostess of their intention to attend the meeting are urged to get in touch with Miss Dorothy Leslie at the Gas Company.

Membership in the junior section is to be by invitation—new members to be sponsored by a "junior" and voted on by the executive board of the senior Woman's Club. Mrs. Laura Hostutler, Mrs. Dorothy Schweisthal and Mrs. Margaret Johns are advisers to the new group.

Turkey In Waiting To Be Given As Prize

Somewhere in Arcadia, a nice, fat turkey is strutting around, with never a though that he is on his way to the roaster. That particular gobbler will become the property of some lucky person who attends the dance to be given the evening of December 3 at the Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse, Mrs. Charles Willey, announced today.

Reservations are already being made for the dance. Shumrad's Rhythm Boys of El Monte, who were a great success at the Lions Club dance, will play.

STINGING STATEMENTS FROM CITIZENS REVEAL STAND OF COMMUNITY ON ILLEGAL BETS

Woman's Club President, Church Leaders Urge Barricade In City Prohibiting Establishments Of Shady Character To Gain Foothold; Strub Discloses Policies

Arcadia went on record today as violently opposing any form of organized racketeering within its city limits.

Statements from representative Arcadia citizens revealed this stand. The storm of protests followed on the heels of the attempt made by a San Francisco concern to establish a self-styled News Forwarding Agency on South Baldwin Avenue for the purpose of relaying wagers into Santa Anita Park during the racing season opening Christmas Day.

With the filing of the letter, signed by W. O. Caro of San Francisco, which sought a business license, City Attorney William Elam ruled that the city ordinance prohibiting bookmaking covered this issue and operation of this contemplated agency.

Statements from leading Arcadia citizens on the subject were given the Tribune today as follows:

Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, president of the Arcadia Woman's Club:

"How can we break faith with the great majority of right-thinking people who have sought Arcadia as a safe and pleasant environment for home and family; also who have invested money and labor for homes and schools, depending on local government to hold sacred this trust and maintain peace and security against the results of rackets and liquor that are seeking entrance under all sorts of disguises?

"Shall we build up to the cultured or down to the rackets? Now is the time to take notice and act."

Dr. Charles H. Strub, general manager of the Los Angeles Turf Club:

"Every effort will be made to prevent attempts to establish agencies outside the gates to run wagers in the park. The Los Angeles Turf Club, Inc., feels it must assume the responsibility with the supervision of the California Horse Racing Board to adopt every possible safeguard to protect the public against abuses sometimes attendant in the sports of racing.

"It would seem illogical to permit individuals or organizations to conduct poolrooms and wire transmittal stores or to participate in any phase of a sport to which they contribute no financial or personal promotion and have no responsibilities or adequate means of supervision for their conduct."

Father Gerald M. O'Keefel, pastor of the Church of the Holy Angels:

"Arcadia, in the midst of a building boom that looks like it will never stop, must be kept clean from head to foot. Any shady business enterprise, any business that tends to destroy Arcadia's fair name must be crushed at the start. Organized vice must be steered away from Arcadia. Our Christian values must not be impaired. Organized vice can be battled only by united action."

Dr. N. Mile Fiske, pastor of the Arcadia Community Church:

"I can see no reason for an additional news distributing agency in this city to aid people who wish to place wagers on horse races conducted in our legalized track. However, I can see great danger in such a place becoming a menace to the best interests of our community life."

Mrs. Jerry Voorhis Speaks At Woman's Club

"A Woman's Impression of Congressional Life" titled the interesting and informative talk with which Mrs. H. Jerry Voorhis delighted members of the Arcadia Woman's Club yesterday, when she appeared as guest speaker at the gala All-states luncheon. Mrs. Voorhis' radiant personality added a particular charm to the reccunting of amusing incidents during her life in Washington, while with her husband, Congressman from the 12th district.

Opening of Congress

The first major happening of importance, after getting the family settled in Alexandria, was the speaker's attendance at the first and only orderly session of Congress. That was the only time Mrs. Voorhis stated, when wives of Representatives were given choice seats in the gallery. At the opening of the Senate and House, when President Roosevelt made his speech, she was seated directly behind the Chief Executive, and although she was unable to see his face as he talked, she was near the Roosevelt family box in the gallery and the Ambassadors' box, and enjoyed "getting a good look" at all seated there.

Many amusing incidents of the Presidents' Inauguration Day, when the crowds stood in avalances of rain, were related. She told of highly important men wearing raincoats fashioned of the "kitchen table-cloth" ... of seeing President Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt leaving for home in an open car—drenched to the skin, but still good sports.

Intricate calling customs were explained, along with the fact that if a Congressman's wife called on everyone she should, there would be some 800 visits made. Mrs. Voorhis told of the simple type clothing worn in the capitol city, and of the lack of elaborateness at most social functions.

Each day in the week with the exception of Saturday and Sunday, and certain hours, are named in an instruction book handed to all newcomers, as special days for calling on special people. Friday is calling day at Foreign Embassies, where invitations to garden parties and teas are handed out.

At British Embassy

Mrs. Voorhis was among those present at a gala garden party given by Lord and Lady Lindsay at the British Embassy, on Coronation Day. Guests, including representatives from every foreign embassy, were met at the door by a Scottish Guard in full regalia.

Congressional Reception

The one affair, when everybody dresses in their very best, is the Congressional reception given by the President and First Lady at the White House. In speaking of that gala occasion, Mrs. Voorhis told of being ushered through "the east door" and met by handsome men in gold braid, who gave them full instructions for the evening. Guests formed in two double files in the beautiful blue room, thinning to single file as they reached President and Mrs. Roosevelt . . . then on into the dining room where they were introduced to dozens of famous people.

Recreation

For recreation while in Washington, Congressmen and Mrs. Voorhis enjoyed many trips to interesting and famed spots in Virginia. The most outstanding, and one described for members of the Woman's Club, was a tour of Thomas Jefferson's home in Monticello, the finest remaining specimen of Colonial architecture.

All-States Luncheon

Mrs. John A. Renshaw, first vice-president of the Woman's Club was general chairman of the colorful All-States luncheon. After calling the meeting to order, Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, president, turned the program over to Mrs. Renshaw, who introduced chairmen of the tables. The president's table, Minnesota, was first with a two minute stunt, each person giving some particular thing for which the state is famous. Five club officers who are from Minnesota are the president, Mrs. Harpole, Mrs. Millspaugh, Mrs. Noack and Mrs. Fiske. Pine cones and greenery were used in decoration.

At the Iowa and Kansas table, Mrs. Gertrude Schenck, chairman, sunflowers were the predominating decoration. Holding symbolic cornstalks, those present marched around the table singing the praises of the two states to the tune of "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Mrs. G. G. Meade was chairman of the Ohio table, and each Ohioan named a historic point or person near whom they lived. Red and white carnations, "mums" and tiny airplanes were on the table.

Miniature Pilgrims, turkeys, spinning wheels, Indians and teepees were on the table for the New England states, of which Mrs. Bessie Sanborn was chairman. Many presidents, poets and authors were given to the country by the New England states, it was proclaimed.

Representatives from Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana were assembled at a table decorated with pomegranates and greenery in a gay reed basket, and entertainew with a clever skit.

Winning Table

Mrs. Russell Lucas was chairman of the winning table—set for Missourians. Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff as interlocutor, had each present to give a fact about her home town and then presided over a period of questions and answers. Mrs. J. T. Reynolds played the "Missouri Waltz." A covered wagon with a banner "Missouri to California," and several tiny mules made an appropriate table decoration. The wagon was loaned by Everett Grosline, Los Angeles high school boy, and a miniature mule by W. Parker Lyon.

Mrs. Fannie Needham and her former Illinois residents produced "all-day suckers" as appropriate to their state and presented a huge lollipop to Mrs. Stewart. A pretty centerpiece was made of red leaves in a bright basket.

The foreign table was strikingly beautiful with its decoration of many-hued flags, brass candelabra with lighted red candles and symbols from far-off lands. Norway, Poland, Canada, England and Mexico were prepresented. Mrs. J. N. MacFarlane gave a splendid talk on he part "foreigners" played in the building of the United States and read a portion of a piece by Longfellow.

Arizona, Texas, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Washington were represented at a table decorated with baskets and pottery of the plateau states. Mrs. Fannie Needham was chairman, and told of the early days in New Mexico and Arizona, when her grandparents had dealings with tribes of Indians.

The California table, in charge of Mrs. Renshaw, was lovely with a center horn of plenty in bright autumn colors, decorated with Chinese lanterns. Persimmons and leaves added to the gay western theme. Mrs. Renshaw read an amusing letter, supposedly written by an Iowa farmer after his return home following a visit here. An entire day was written out in the letter, each action depending on a product from some other state or country.

As a whole, the All-States luncheon was one of the most colorful events in the Woman's Club year. Nearly 90 were served by Mrs. Alice Cross and her committee.

Many Guests At Club Meeting

A large number of guests were introduced at yesterday's meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club. Included were Mesdames Wharton, Daniels, E. P. Edwards, Krenz, Keenan, H. E. Reiss, Lulu Deethman, R. Felt, Alta Turney, E. Berry, H. E. Owens, E. E. Wallace, F. M. Beal, F. M. Menke, and C. W. Moore.

At the business meeting, sandwiched between the All-States luncheon and the forceful talk given by Deputy Sheriff Edmonde L. Greene in the afternoon, several new members were introduced including Miss Pearl Smith, Mrs. C. O. Holmgreen, Mrs. Carlton Wasmansdorf and Mrs. Marcia Crellin.

Announcement of the next California History and Landmarks section meeting was made by Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff, chairman, the session to be held on Tuesday, November 22, at the home of Mrs. Ethel Rubottom, at 1:30.

Miss Eleanor Lucas, chairman of the new junior section, asked clubwomen to assist the group with their Christmas toy drive, and announced that pieces of material would be most acceptable for making doll dresses. Members who have discarded toys or material may call Mrs. Sharkey at Arcadia 2131, Miss Lucas at 605 or any junior member.

Those present were reminded of the dance to be given at the clubhouse on December 3, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Willey.

Expect Hundred At Escorts' Dinner

Mrs. Edith Behm, chairman of arrangements for the Escorts Dinner to be given at the Arcadia Womans Clubhouse tomorrow evening, announces today that approximately one hundred have made reservations for the affair.

A most delectable fish dinner has been planned in addition to the regular fare for those who abstain from meat on Friday.

Dinner will be served at 6:30, with husbands and escorts of clubmembers honored guests. Mrs. Laura Hostutler is in charge of the dining room and Mrs. Evalina Pike, the decorations.

The program committee has been fortunate in securing Leslie Brigham, well-known impersonator and character song recitalist, whose talent will be appreciated by men and women alike.

Twelfth Annual Flower Show Huge Success

Last Saturday afternoon and evening at the Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse on South First Avenue, hundreds of flower lovers came to admire the beautiful floral arrangements, unique vegetable displays, plants and the weed exhibit.

The visitors were greeted at the door and received gay little corsages of brilliant autumn flowers and also a number for the drawing of the door-prize. Before the large studio window in the reception room, an enormous bowl of perfect specimens of orange and golden marigolds grown by Mrs. S. L. Chase, occupied a special position. The central clubroom was decorated with green palms and cages of singing canaries, so kindly loaned for the occasion by Miss Cagnon of the West Arcadia Beauty Chop, added to the beauty and music of the Show.

Mrs. W. S. Lawless of Sierra Madre, sent several potted Cascade Chrysanthemums in orchid mist and burnished gold from the Wistaria Vine Gardens. Likewise the Sierra Madre Woman's Club sent a beautiful basket of baby pom-pom mums." Mr. Becker of Becker's Dress Shop complimented "Flower-Day" with a huge basket of white and gold Chrysanthemums, which occupied the place of honor in the center of the room.

As a special courtesy to the Chairman, Mrs. Nellie White, a lovely basket of mixed flowers was arranged and presented by Mrs. Rowley of the Santa Anita Flower shop.

Mrs. A. L. Parker, known throughout Arcadia for her beautiful roses, had a marvelous display in every color and hue. Autumn, Radiance, General McArthur and Los Angeles, were but a few that occupied the large table. A special display of artistic flower compositions, beautiful in every detail, entered by Mrs. Bonner of Alhambra arrived too late for classification.

A table which called forth much attention, was the unique arrangement of fruits and vegetables displayed by Miss Grace McCurdy. A purple cabbage lady, a bouquet of carrots in lacy green, egg-plant book-ends and a sweet potato pig, were but a few of the unusual uses of the vegetable. Ligewise the use and artistic value of the lowly weed was displayed in a long table arranged by Mrs. Miss and Mrs. Stanley, and proved to be one of the chief attractions. Brass ware, persimmon tones and the laciness of weeds were combined in an artistic arrangement with fruit.

In the central table of the room was a large table for those flower-lovers entering the contest. There were many beautiful and unique bouquets from a little old-fashioned nose-gay to huge gaskets of brilliant blooms. The prize winner in the contest was Mrs. Hull of Sierra Madre who entered a green and white composition in a low white bowl, arranged with special emphasis to the effective, but simple use of large flat leaves and white flowers. The prize was a Rex Begonia from the Fox Gardens. Mrs. Browder entered a basket of perennials which received honorable mention, as did Mrs. Chase who had grown an darranged a bowl of marigolds.

Mrs. J. J. MacFarlane had an unusual attractive arrangement of crystal, blue and silver on one table, and her mums occupied another large table. This display of Anuals and Perennials arranged by Mrs. Brandt and Mrs. Browder reminded one of an old-fashioned English garden. Elizabet Schermerhorn entered two arrangements, one being the simple, but effective use of a large Aralia leaf and its tightly closed buds, while the other one combined autumn fruits and pods into an "Autumn Bouquet." On the same table Mrs. Stanley, had used three white swan containers to hold little button "mums" of varied colors, into a composition both striking and usual.

There was such a large display of perfect specimens of Chrysanthemums from so many garden-lovers, that they are just too numerous to mention. But the varieties from the gardens of R. L. McCray deserve special commendation. Gorgeous blooms with brilliant yellow centers and purple flutterings were especially unusual, not to mention the enormous yellow and white ones, and the feathery Spider variety. The Rex and Tuberous-rooted begonias from the Fox Begonia and Rare Plant Gardens occupied one entire corner. The cool green leaves, and the velvet blooms were lovely, and the Gesnaria variety was especially unique. Mr. W. P. Ramuz of the Arcadia Nursery had many potted plants and aids for the gardener. The Pleronia with its deep open-face purple bloom, and the waxy camellias were special features of the Nursery.

All-States Luncheon Outstanding Event

An impressive and beautiful All-States Luncheon was held at the Woman's Clubhouse on Wednesday. Mrs. Alice Cross was Chairman of the luncheon committee, and was assisted by Mrs. Ella Baughman. Members and their guests were seated at attractive tables, decorated to represent the various states.

California, as the hostess, had its table in the center, and was beautifully decorated with a horn of plenty, over-flowing with fruits of harvest time. Mrs. John Renshaw, acted as Chairman for the skits and introduced the various states.

Mrs. Charles Stewart, president of the club, represented the Minnesota table, which was decorated with shining brown pine cones and slim green needles. Each member of the table read interesting facts of the state. Iowa and Kansas had long cornstalks and brilliant sunflowers to designate their states. The ladies presented a clever stunt with Mrs. Gertrude Schenck acting as chairman.

The Ohio table, with Mrs. G. G. Meade in charge, was decoratd with maple leaves, and each member wore a similar leaf. It was announced among the many interesting facts, that the ladies had also njoyed will strawberry jam, red apple jelly and real maple syrup from Ohio. Mrs. Bessie Sanborn represented the New England group and spoke of the many notables and characteristics of the sister states. The table was attractive with miniature pilgrims, Indian tepees, and was a scene of early America.

Mrs. Gertrude Hookway was chairman of the Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana table, which was brilliant with huge red pomegranates and foliage. Mrs. Harriet Lucas, ably assisted by Mrs. Emily Mann Timerhoff, showed how Missouri "had to be shown." With an ox-cart bearing the inscription "California Here We Come," and strains of the Missouri Waltz, they brought there skit to a successful climax. In fact so very much so, that the judges, composed of the California table, awarded them the prize.

Mrs. Fannie Needham, representing Illinois, cleverly showed that it was a "sucker" state, by means of huge lemon lollipops. Autumn leaves and foliage decorated the table. Mrs. Frances Needham, Chairman for the table representing the Plateau States spoke of the varied interests, and related interesting experiences of her own childhood. This table carried out Indian pottery and baskets in the decorations.

Mrs. A. L. Parker, as Chairman of the All-Nations table, had her table decorated to represent the many countries of the world. Norway, Poland, Canada, British Columbia, England and Mexico, were the countries represented.

Mrs. Renshaw of the California table gave a clever reading, which included practically all the states of the Union, and it was greatly enjoyed by the members.

Mrs. Stewart, introduced the many many guests and new members of the group. A short business meeting was held, with several announcements being made. Mrs. Timerhoff announced that the meeting of the California History and Landmarks Section, would be held on November 22 at the home of Mrs. Ethel Robottom. Mrs. [illegible] requested that [illegible] portation was needed for the Boy Scout troop that the Club sponsors. Eleanor Lucas, representing the Junior Sections of the Club, made a meeting announced. Members were urged to attend the "Escort's Dinner" on Friday evening.

The members of the club chose Mrs. A. R. Chambers as the new program Chairman, to fill the vacancy of Mrs. Wood Glover, who recently resigned.

Mrs. Stewart introduced Mrs. Jerry Voorhis, who gave her "Impressions Of Washington," gathered from her recent sojourn in the National Capitol. Embassy visits, personal meetings with Congressional wives, a Coronation Tea, personal introduction to the President and the First Lady, were but a few of the interesting and thoroughly enjoyable incidents related by Mrs. Voorhis, whose husband is Representative of Congress from the Twelfth District.

Mrs. Stewart also presented Mr. Edmund L. Green of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Office, who appeared through the courtesy of Mr. A. Harold Noon. Mr. Green brought a vital and stirring message to the members.

Escort's Dinner This Evening

The annual Escort's dinner will be held this evening at the Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse, and judging from the many reservations, the affair should prove to be a huge success. The dinner is scheduled for six o'clock, with Mrs. Edith Behm serving as Chairman. Her hostesses will include club members. Mrs. Lura Hostutler will have charge of the dining room and Mrs. Evalina Pike will take care of decorations. Reservations are being made with Mrs. Bertha Lewis, Mrs. Pearl Schermerhorn and Mrs. Ina Millspaugh.

An unusually fine program is being planned for the evening. Mr. John Vanderbur will lead the group in community singing, with Mrs. Geoffrey Hamilton at the piano.

The main attraction of program will be Leslie Brigham, well known impersonator and singer. The club feels very fortunate in securing his services for the occasion. Mr. Brigham has appeared in many recitals, before opera reading clubs, and on the concert stage.

Club members are anticipating a gala evening.

Junior Women Hold Meeting

The Junior Section of the Arcadia Woman's Club, met last evening at the home of Edith Ekman at 1500 South First Avenue. It was decided to hold the regular meeting of the group on the third Thursday of each month. The members adopted a set of rules to govern the organization. Plans were formulated whereby the Juniors will assist the Fire Department with the Toy Drive.

During the evening games were enjoyed, and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Eleanor Lucas is serving as temporary chairman, and Dorothy Leslie as temporary Secretary-Treasurer. Mrs. John Hostutler, Mrs. Dorothy Schweisthal, and Mrs. Margaret Johns are sponsors of the group.

At the first meeting held at Mrs. Eugene Harpole's on November 2, there were twenty-seven young womn present.

Junior Women Adopt By-Laws At Second Meeting

Meeting for the first time since their organization on November 2, members of the Junior Section of the Woman's Club and prospective members, assembled last night at the home of Miss Edith Ekman, 1500 South First avenue, for a "get-acquainted" party. There were twenty-five present.

Business Meeting

With temporary chairman Miss Eleanor Lucas presiding, the girls heard the reading of a proposed set of section by-laws, by secretary protempor Miss Dorothy Leslie, and after thorough discussion and some revision, adopted the rules as their own.

Miss Jean Youngken reported for the Christmas toy-drive committee and asked members to leave discarded or broken toys at her home, 26 Alta street not later than Tuesday, November 23. The toys will then be turned over to the Arcadia Fire Departmnt for repairs and distribution.

As special assistance to the fire crew, the girls will dress dolls for Christmas. Miss Lucas invited the girls to her home on December 7, for a sewing bee, reminding them to bring scissors and scraps of matrial, needles and thimbles, and any doll patterns available.

The Junior girls are anxious to "put over" their first endeavor, and invite Arcadians who have abandoned toys or parts of toys, or scraps of material to call one of the members, and the donation will be called for.

Will Elect Officers

Their next meeting, to be called to order promptly at 8 o'clock, December 16 at the Clubhouse, will feature election of the group's first officers. There will be a presidnt, vice-president, secretary treas., and program chairman. The social hour will be in the form of a Christmas party, with a yule tree and exchange of twenty-five cent gifts. Miss Virginia Hostutler is in charge.

Social Hour

At the close of the business meeting, Misses Dorothy Walters and Eleanor Hoagland presided over a social hour. As an "ice-breaker" the girls autographed those present according to the color of the person's eyes. Miss Jean Youngken won the prize for a game of questions and answers, Eleanor Ott and Dorothy Leslie for "Things Our Grandmothers Missed" and on the ever-popular contest of advertising slogans, Mrs. Lois Sharkey and Kay Barngrover were winners.

Delicious buffet refreshments were served by Miss Ekman as a conclusion to the evening. Thanksgiving motif in orange and brown was used. The buffet table was centered with a vase of yellow and orchid chrysanthemums.

Those Present

Attending were: Misses Carol Vassalo, Evelyn Crader, Dorothy Walters, Elinor Hoagland, Jean Youngken, Lois Mann, Dorothy Leslie, Belle Royal, Virginia Hostutler, Constance Ellison, Norma Parks, Kay Barongrover, Eleanor Lucas, Virginia Brown, Barbara Geiger, Ruth Geiger, Jane Nevin; Mesdames Genevieve Nutter, Lois Sharkey, Virginia Owens, Anne Leigh, and the three sponsors, Mrs. John Hostutler, Mrs. Dorothy Schweisthal, and Mrs. Harold Johns.

CLUB WOMEN ENTERTAIN ESCORTS

A capacity crowd attended the dinner for members of the Arcadia Woman's club and their escorts held last night at the clubhouse. The long tables were attractively decorated in the Thanksgiving theme by Mrs. Roy Pike. During the dinner community singing was led by John Vanderbur with Mrs. G. J. Hamilton at the piano.

The after dinner program was given by Leslie Brigham, concert baritone, who presented a character song recital accompanied by Raymond McFetters.

Annual Flower Show Event of November 13th

AFFAIR TO ENCOURAGE BEAUTIFICATION OF ARCADIA GARDENS

On Saturday evening, November 13, the Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse will be the scene of the annual flower show sponsored by the club Garden Section, it was announced today by Mrs. Nellie A. White, chairman. The entire clubhouse will represent a bower of autumn loveliness . . . every blossem, every shrub, rare plant, fruit or vegetable a product of Arcadia gardens. As it has been in past years, the show will be a civic enterprise designed to promote and encourage planting of home grounds for the beautification of Arcadia.

No Charge

In her announcement today, Mrs. White urged every Arcadian to contribute as much plant material as possible. Rare plants which may add to the educational value of the show are especially requested. There will be no charge for entries or for admittance, making it possible for everyone to take part.

Last Year's Show

Last year, the clubhouse was filled to overflowing with autumn flowers of every description. There were chrysanthemums from the tiny "baby" variety to the huge curly pom-poms . . . dahlias the size of buttons and dinner-plates . . . roses from white and yellow and blush-pink to deep American Beauty red . . . rare desert plants and shrubs . . . gourds, begonias, ferns, fruits and vegetables and even an assortment of "Arcadia weeds."

Name Committees

So that cut flowers will be fresh for the show, committees will receive contributions as late as 11 o'clock Saturday morning, Mrs. White announces. Women will receive and arrange the entries from 8 until 11.

The entire list of committee-members is as follows:

Chrysanthemums: Mrs. W. E. Larsh, Mrs. A. R. Chambers, Mrs. R. W. Evans.

Roses: Mrs. A. L. Parker, Mrs. J. L. Kohler, Miss Emilie Faulkner.

Dahlias: Mrs. Ardene Boller, Mrs. J. N. McFarlane.

Annuals and Perennials: Mrs. Brandt and Mrs. Browder.

Berried Shrubs —Leaves and Grasses: Mrs. Harry Rickett and Mrs. C. F. Noack.

Weeds and their Possibilities: Mrs. Harry C. Marshall.

Table of Miniatures: Mrs. J. L. Byrne, Mrs. Pike.

Fruits and Vegetables: Miss Grace McCurdy, Mrs. Pauline Crader.

Special Arrangement of Small Tables: Mrs. Harvey Moss, Mrs. J. D. Stanley.

Plant Sales Table: Mrs. J. Thompson, Mrs. Spencer.

Candy Sales Table: Mrs. W. A. Young, Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Perry.

Additional information concerning the Flower Show will be published from time to time in the Tribune. Mrs. White, general chairman invites Arcadians who are interested to call her at Arcadia 657.

Contest, Prize Highlight Club Dance

Arcadians who are planning to attend the dance at the Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse on December 3 should tune in some peppy radio music and practice stepping around the living room, Mrs Charles Willey, chairman of the affair, stated today, for one of the highlights of the evening will be a prize waltz. There will be awards for the gentleman and lady who are the best waltzers on the floor. Professionals will be excluded from the contest. Mrs. Willey will reveal names of judges within the next few days.

A capacity crowd is expected at the clubhouse on the evening of the dance, many private dancing parties having been planned. Mrs. James

PRIZE HIGHLIGHT OF CLUB DANCE

Bone of the Fleeta Apartments will entertain six couples and Mrs. F. C. Ingram and Mrs. Clyde Cannon have signified their intention to entertain friends.

Mrs. Willey announces that as a door prize, a 12-pound turkey will be given. The holiday bird has been generously donated by William R. Clarkson of Robinson's Market.

The chairman and her co-workers will act as a reception committee as guests arrive and as hostesses during the evening.

Window posters advertising the event, were distributed through business sections of El Monte and Arcadia this week. Mrs. C. F. Noack is assisting Mrs. M. G. Millspaugh with the ticket sale. Admission is $1.00 per couple.

Junior Section Of Club Asks For Toy Donations

The newly-formed Junior Section of the Arcadia Woman's Club today is sending out an "S.O.S." call for broken or discarded toys, with which they may assist the Arcadia Fire Department in its annual Christmas toy drive. The young women chose this way to do their part in the Yule-tide civic welfare work, and are anxious to help in every way possible to make this Christmas a brighter one for needy children.

As a special project, members have offered to dress all the dolls for Fire Chief John S. Eshelman, and several sewing-bees have been planned. Arcadians are invited to take toys or pieces of material to the home of Miss Jean Youngken, 26 Alta street, as soon as possible.

A special request is extended to members of the senior club, who meet tomorrow in regular session, that they bring scraps of material to the clubhouse, along with any discarded toys they may find about the house. A representative of the Junior Section will pick them up.

Woman's Club To Meet Tomorrow

At tomorrow's meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club and at the next meeting, donations of food, clothing and silver will be accepted, it was announced today by Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, president. The donations are to go toward the club's civic welfare work, which is directed by Mrs. A. B. Ellison and her committee—Mrs. John Kaskel, Mrs. Babs Corby, Mrs. Leanore Glasser, Mrs. Bessie Vanderbur and Mrs. Florence Muller.

The club will this year assist with alleviating distress in Arcadia, rather than elsewhere.

Handcrafts will be the theme of tomorrow's meeting. Mrs. Helen Sparks will have charge of a fine handcraft display. Mrs. Ralph T. Henderson, handcraft chairman of the Los Angeles District Federation of Woman's Clubs, will speak.

Following the two o'clock business meeting, Mrs. Marie Chambers will present Mrs. Greta H. Crandall, who will speak on "Madonnas in Art."

Woman's Club Views Madonna Painting At Meeting

At yesterday's meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club, presided over by Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, president colored slides of world-famous Madonnas, dating from years before the Renaissance to the present, were shown to an appreciative audience by Mrs. Greta H. Crandall.

Beautiful Program

Mrs. Crandall, introduced by Mrs. Frances Needham, explained the pictures as they were shown on the screen, and gave interesting bits about the artists' lives. Among the first was the shrine in the Church of the Nativity in Bethleham, in which is the very spot where the Christ Child was born. Pillars of the church are those dug from the ruins of Solomon's Temple.

"Madonnas, painted by the masters, in red and blue—symbolic of love and truth, were the Bible to the poor and ignorant, and inspiration to the rich," the speaker stated.

In Florence, Italy, are to be found more Madonnas than in any other European city. Centuries of progress in are were unfolded as the series of pictures were shown—several of the last being those of modern artists . . . in the simple, spiritual effect, without elaboration.

Business Meeting

Several announcements of importance were made during the two o'clock business meeting, in charge of the president, Mrs. Stewart. Mrs. Nellie A. White announced the next meeting of the Garden Section, to be held at the new home of Mrs. Florence Boller, with Mrs. Stanley as co-hostess. A plant shower will be a feature of the meeting. She also expressed her appreciation to those who helped to make the recent Flower Show a success.

Following the reading of a communication by Mrs. White, the club held discussion on the decoration for Christmas of the lovely deodar on the clubhouse lawn. Mrs. Stewart urged clubmembers to depict by outside lighting or by a tree in the window, the happy Christmas spirit, expressed a hope that the entire community might this season be one of gay Yule-tide decoration.

Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff reported on the last meeting of the California History and Landmarks section and announced the annual Christmas party to be held at Olvera street on December 10. Many Arcadians are planning to attend the affair, to start with luncheon at La Golondrina Cafe. Mexican songs dances and typical Christmas celebration will be in order.

Mrs. Charles Willey, chairman of the building committee, announced the dance to be given at the clubhouse Friday evening of this week and the next benefit card party, which will be given in January. She invited those who do not dance to attend Friday evening's affair, promising "a good time for all."

for civic welfare work at Christ- to bring articles which may be used for icvic welfare work at Christmas time, to the next club meeting, which will be a Christmas party. There will be an exchange of gifts between members.

Mrs. Stewart urged that as many as possible support the San Gabriel Valley Orchestra this year by becoming patrons. On Tuesday evening, December 7, the orchestra will give the first in a series of three concerts at the Mayflower school in Monrovia. Tickets for the entire series are one dollar.

Luncheon Program

Mrs. Helen Sparks, handcraft chairman, introduced Mrs. Ralph T. Henderson, chairman of handcrafts for the section, who brought a delightful talk on handcrats and displayed many novel and useful hadmade articles. Included were hooked and braided rugs, colorful baskets made of twisted crepe paper, handbags, gloves, leather work, wood carving and hammered copper articles.

Mrs. Fred Schwartz, member of the Monrovia Woman's Club and past handcrafts chairman for the district and state, sat at the president's table and was introduced.

Mrs. Stewart introduced the following guests: Mesdames Jean Longpre, S. W. Uhler, Stanley, Rook, W. A. Galentine C. J. Berry, and Mrs. Stafier. Mrs. Fred Miller was chairman of the luncheon committee, and Mrs Edith Gruben, co-chairman. They were assisted by Mrs. Marianna Wisniewski, Mrs. Cockshott, Mrs. Rubottom, Mrs. Amy Daniels, Mrs. Kaskel, Mrs. Charles Beery and Dr. Grace Cullen

Red and white roses decorated the president's table and lavender and white "mums" were attractively arranged on the luncheon tables.

Woman's Club Sending Call For Wheel Chairs

The Arcadia Woman's Club today is sending out an "S.O.S." call for three wheel-chairs, which are badly needed for invalid Arcadians. Mrs. A. B. Ellison and her Welfare committee expressed the need at yesterday's meeting of the club. Anyone who has a wheel chair which may be acquired by the club, is urged to call Mrs. Ellison or any club officer.

Membership Dues In Club Payable

In making her treasurer's report at yesterday's meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club, Mrs. Ina Millspaugh announced that membership dues are due and payable, and that if not paid before February, will be delinquent.

Annual Christmas Party At Olvera Street

Again this year, members of the California History and Landmarks Section of the district and county C.F.W.C. will assemble at La Golondrina in Olvera street, for the colorful Mexican Christmas celebration. Announcement is made today by Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff, chairman of the local section, that several Arcadia women are planning to attended.

The women, sometimes numbering nearly five hundred, meet for a delicious Mexican luncheon at La Golondrina, having as their hostess Senora Bonza, who has served in that capacity for many years. During the luncheon hour, typical Mexcan music is offered by a string orchestra.

The beautiful celebration follows, featuring dancers and soloists, and the authentic Yule-tide ceremonial. Fifty-two cents covers luncheon and entertainment.

Federation dignitaries will be in attendance. Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, president of the Arcadia Woman's Club, will be present. Four automobiles are being furnished for the local group. Those who want to attend are asked to call Mrs. Timerhoff at 2593 for reservations not later than December 8.

PASADENA POST, FRIDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 3, 1937

DANCE CHAIRMAN

MRS. CHARLES WILLEY

ARCADIA, Dec. 2.—George S. Campbell, president of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses for 1938 will be one of the judges for the waltz contest which will be a feature of the Women's Club dance which will be held tomorrow evening at the clubhouse, according to Mrs. Charles Willey, chairman.

Other judges will be Jack Zelkowitz, Monrovia; Richard Leonard and James Bone.

Hostesses will include Mrs. John A. Renshaw, Mrs. A. R. Chambers, Mrs. Gus Kaskel, Mrs. Le Roy Chambers and Mrs. John Kaskel.

Mrs. John Hostutler, adviser to the new Junior group, will serve as hostess to several junior members and their escorts.

Shymar's Rhythm Boys from El Monte will furnish music for dancing.

Juniors To Sew Tomorrow Night

Members of the Junior Section of the Arcadia Woman's Club will meet tomorrow evening at the home of Miss Eleanor Lucas, 379, W. Norman, to dress dolls, which will be distributed at Christmas time by the Arcadia Fire Department.

The girls are asked to bring as many pieces of material as possible, doll-patterns which they may have, scissors, thimble, needles and some good ideas.

Members of the new Junior Section are assisting the firemen with their annual Christmas work as their first charitable project. They have been organized just five weeks and have held two meetings.

Dance Pronounced Success By Those In Charge

A most delightful time was that enjoyed last Friday evening by the crowd attending the dance at the Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse. The affair marked one more outstanding success for Mrs. Charles Willey, chairman of the club's building committee and the dance, who is well-known in this vicinity for her abilities as hostess.

The party was gay and sociable from the very first dance, to the very last, with Shumard's Rhythm Boys furnishing peppy music. Mrs. Willey and Mr. James Bone led the evening Grand March.

The door-prize, a 12-pound turkey generously donated by Fred Robinson's Market, was won by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Zelkowitz of Monrovia.

Refreshments were served all evening long without charge.

Mrs. John A. Renshaw, Mrs. A. R. Chambers, Mrs. Gus Kaskel, Mrs LeRoy Chambers, Mrs. John Kaskel and Mrs. John Hostutler assisted Mrs. Willey as hostesses for the evening. Mrs. C. F. Noack and Mrs. Mark G. Millspaugh were in charge of the ticket sale

The dance was the occasion for many private parties given by Arcadians for their friends.

Mrs. Willey wishes to publicly thank Mr. Robinson for his donation, and all those who gave so generously of time and effort in assisting her to make the party such a success.

Dues Payable At Junior Session Tonight

Eleanor Lucas, chairman protempore of the Woman's Club Junior Section reminds members that dues are payable, and urges as many as possible to bring their money to the sewing bee this evening at her home, 379 West Norman.

Dolls Dressed By Juniors At Sewing-Bee

Eight members of the Woman's Club Junior Section assembled last night at the home of Eleanor Lucas and spent the evening making new clothes for more than a score of dolls, to be given out to Arcadia children at Christmas-time.

Those present were Misses Virginia Hostutler, Virginia Brown, Lois Mann, Jean Youngken, Gertrude Dickinson, Edith Ekman, Mrs. Mary Bellinger, the hostess and her young sister, Doris Lucas, who was a special helper. At the close of the evening, refreshments were served.

Many of the girls have taken a number of dolls home and will complete dressing them there. A call for more dolls and other toys for little girls is being sent out by the Fire Department and the Junior women. A call to any of the girls will be appreciated.

The next regular meeting of the Junior Section will be held at the home of Miss Virginia Hostutler on West Duarte road, instead of at the clubhouse as formerly announced, on Thursday evening, December 16. A Christmas tree and exchange of gifts (not to exceed 25 cents in cost) will be enjoyed. Election of officers will be held.

Change Meeting Place For Juniors

Instead of meeting at the clubhouse, as was previously planned, members of the Arcadia Woman's Club Junior Section will assemble for their December session and Christmas party at the home of Miss Virginia Hostutler, 436 W. Duarte road, on Thursday evening of next week. Meeting will be called to order promptly at 8 o'clock by chairman protempore Eleanor Lucas. Election of officers will highlight the business period.

During the social hour to follow, the hostess will be assisted by Virginia Brown and Gertrude Dickinson. Gifts (not exceeding twenty-five cents in cost) are to be exchanged. There will be a decorated Christmas tree, games and refreshments. Girls are asked to bring 25 cents each to defray the refreshment expense.

Each member must have paid a portion of the $3.00 dues by the time order is called in order to cast her vote in the election or to hold office.

Miss Lucas announces that all dolls and toys which are ready should be brought to the Christmas meeting.

Day At Olvera Tomorrow

Tomorrow, nearly a score of Arcadians will enjoy the annual Christmas celebration at LaGolondrina Cafe in Olvera Street, when the Los Angeles district California History and Landmarks Section and Los Angeles County section combine for a December conference.

Speakers will include Mrs. Louise Ward Watkins, Mrs. Oscar E. Elvrum, vice-president Los Angeles District Federation, and Senora de Bonzo. They will tlel of Christmas in early California.

La Golondrina will be crowded to the rafters for the Mexican luncheon and afternoon program, which is the most colorful Yule-tide celebration in Southern California.

Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff, chairman of the California History and Landmarks Section of the Woman's Club, has arranged reservations for Arcadians who attend.

Garden Section Will Meet

The lovely new home of Mrs. Ardene Boller at 56 Floral avenue will be the scene of the next meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club Garden Section. Members will assemble at 1:45, the meeting to be opened by Mrs. Nellie A. White, chairman.

A plant shower for the Boller garden will be a feature of the afternoon. Each one attending is asked to bring something from her own garden.

Woman's Club In Quest For Wheelchair

A place in the sun!

There are several elderly Arcadians whose lives would be much happier if they had a wheelchair in which to move from their confining rooms, and the Civil Welfare committee of the Arcadia Womans Club today announced that contributions are being taker for a wheelchair as well as gifts for the Christmas party programmed for the club on December 15.

The Civic Welfare committee is composed of Mrs. A. B. Ellison chairman, and Mesdames Emmy Kaskel, Babe Corby, Leanore Glasser, Bessie Vanderbur and Florence Muller.

"A wheelchair that could be rented, free, to older Arcadians would be such a grand Christmas present!" Mrs. Ellison declared. "So in addition to Christmas gifts we are accepting contributions toward a wheel chair and if anyone has such a vehicle in their attic the civic welfare committee would appreciate loaning it to those need one so very much!"

Junior Woman's Club Meets

The Junior Section of the Arcadia Woman's Club, met Tuesday evening at the home of Eleanor Lucas and spent the evening dressing dolls for the Fire Department. Eight girls were present for the evening of sewing.

It was announced that the next meeting would be held at the home of Virginia Hostutler, 396 West Duarte Road, on Thursday, December 16. The meeting is scheduled to start promptly at 8 o'clock. The first election of officers of the new group will take place. Eleanor Lucas has been serving as Chairman protempore, and Dorothy Leslie as Secretary-Treasurer protemper.

The members will exchange gifts, not to exceed twenty-five cents. Virginia Brown and Gertrude Dickinson will assist the hostess.

Anyone having dolls is urged to get in touch with Eleanor Lucas, as more dolls are needed immediately.

Giving Is Theme Of Wednesday Club Meeting

The giving of Christmas gifts to each other and to the club's Welfare Committee for distribution to the needy will highlight Wednesday's meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club. Gifts, not to cost more than 25 cents, will be placed under a beautiful tree—decorated in the old-fashioned manner—and handed out by Santa Claus. Each member who brings a gift will receive one. Members are urged to remember the little chimney in the foyer of the clubhouse, in which they are asked to deposit any articles of food, clothing or money which they may spare for Arcadia's needy at Christmas-time. Mrs. A. B. Ellison, welfare chairman, is especially anxious to have the chimney filled to overflowing. Used articles will be as welcome as new, Mrs. Ellison states.

Mrs. LeRoy Anderson, program chairman for the day, announces that she is happy in having been able to secure Mrs. Edith Roberts, who will give a reading, carrying out a beautiful Christmas story. Mrs. Roberts has, in the past, given the club many pleasurable hours.

Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff and her committee are making elaborate plans for luncheon decorations in the red and green seasonal colors. Mrs. Glen Watson will lead the assemblage in singing Christmas carols.

Members are urged to make reservations by tomorrow with Mrs. John Kaskel, chairman of the luncheon committee, whose phone number is 301.

Juniors of the club are extended a cordial invitation by Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, Woman's Club president, to attend the Christmas meeting and join in the festivity.

Arcadians Attend Christmas Party At Olvera Street

This morning members of the California History and Landmarks Section of the district and county C.F.W.C. are gathering at Olvera Street for their annual colorful Christmas celebration. Mrs. Emily M. Timrehoff, chairman of the local section announces that eighteen ladies from Arcadia are motoring in for the celebration.

The women will assemble at La Golondrina for a delicious Mexican luncheon, having as their hostess Senora Bonza, who is known throughout California for her hospitality. During the luncheon hour, typical Mexican music will be played by a group of native musicians.

Following the luncheon the beautiful celebration will take place, featuring native dancers and soloists and authentic Yuleitde ceremonies.

Christmas Meeting Of Woman's Club

The Arcadia Woman's Club will meet next Wednesday December 15, at the clubhouse on South First Avenue, where an attractive Christmas luncheon and program will be held. Mrs. John Kaskel is in charge of the luncheon, which will be served at 12 o'clock. She will be assisted by her committee of hostesses.

The California History and Landmraks Section will have charge of the table decorations, which will depicit the development of our state from prmitive times to the present day.

After the short business meeting, a Christmas program will be enjoyed. Members will join together to sing carols and will also exchange gifts. All are asked to bring gifts not exceeding twenty-five cents.

Members are urged to make luncheon reservations early with Mrs. Kaskel, by phoning 301.

Garden Section To Meet Tuesday

The Garden Section of the Arcadia Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Florence Boller, 56 Floral Avenue, next Tuesday afternoon at 1:45. The members will follow their unique and usual customs of giving a plant shower for a member who has just moved into a newly built home. Mrs. Boller will be honored by the group, and guests are asked to bring a plant from their own gardens.

Annual Luncheon At La Golondrina Attracts 200

As has been their custom for several years past, representatives of Federated Women's Clubs—especially those interested in California's history—assembled at La Golondrina Cafe in Olvera street, for a luncheon and program in celebration of the Christmas season. Approximately 200 were assembled at tables in the low-ceilinged room, and enjoyed the eypical Mexican luncheon.

Notables of the Los Angeles Federation occupied one table and talked during the early part of the afternoon. Among those were Mrs. Hathaway of Monrovia, Mrs. Oscar Elvrum, and others. Mrs. Louise Ward Watkins gave the principal address, referring to "ye olde tymes" when 44 pioneers, 22 of them children, walked from San Gabriel to what is now Olvera street, headed by the zealous padres, and held the first religious ceremony in this locality—then began home-building.

She and the other speakers stressed the need of Christian fellowship and guardianship of the young the "love for fellowmen, for God and country if we would progress."

Senora de Bonza, acting hostess, marshalled her speakers in turn to the gaily decorated stage, presented members of the orchestra, dancers and soloists. All joined with the orchestra and hostess in singing the American "Jingle Bells" and the Spanish "La Golondrina," the hostess leading and then telling the story of the "Nativity" as the music ceased.

Among many humorous incidents was that when the Cafe chef, still in his apron and cap, appeared and sang the song of the cockroaches—"La Cucuracha"— going down into the adudience and pretending to catch and kill several among the assemblage.

Attending from Arcadia were Mesdames Charles W. Stewart, F. H. Diggins, James A. Stoker, George H. Barngrover, E. C. Hamilton, C. I. Hookway, Ethel Rubottom, J. M. MacFarlane, J. W. Schweisthal, J. S. Craig, Jack Moore, Ben J. Cross, E. M. Timerhoff and Miss Eva Reynolds.

Woman's Club Will Buy Wheel-Chair

The spirit of unselfishness—of giving—which is Christmas, permeated the meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club yesterday. In the foyer was a tall chimney—overflowing with gifts of food and clothing to be distributed at Christmas-time.

An outstanding factor during the business meeting was the decision of members to forego decoration of the beautiful deodar on the lawn until next year, and, instead to purchase a wheel-chair, so greatly needed in welfare work of the city. In the words of members, "the joy in some aged person's eyes when he is given free use of the chair, will shine 100 times more brightly than any Christmas tree." In place of the tree, the club will display an illuminated star in the front window.

Immediately on conclusion of the vote to buy the wheel-chair, several voluntary contributions were made. The club hopes to obtain three chairs, all to be placed in Arcadia homes. Donations from non-clubmembers will be greatly appreciated.

Juniors Meet At Hostutler Home Thursday

Miss Virginia Hostutler, who will be hostess to the Woman's Club Juniors, when they hold their regular meeting and Christmas party at her home Thursday evening, asks that each member who plans to attend get in touch with her by this evening. Plans will be made for only those who make reservations.

Election of officers will highlight the business meeting, and in the social hour to follow, members will exchange presents, not to exceed twenty-five cents in cost. Girls who have completed dressing dolls for the Fire Department, are reminded to take them to the meeting.

Juniors Meet For Election Tonight

Juniors of the Arcadia Woman's Club will elect their first officers this evening when they meet at the home of Miss Virginia Hostutler on West Duarte Road. There will be a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and program chairman chosen.

Following the business meeting, the girls will enjoy a Christmas party with exchange of gifts—each not to exceed 25 cents in cost. The hostess will be assisted by Miss Gertrude Dickinson and Miss Virginia Brown.

Members are reminded to bring as large a portion of their dues as possible, as it is necessary that at least a part be paid in order to vote or to be elected. Those who have completed dressing dolls are asked to bring them. Meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock.

Jolly Christmas Spirit At Woman's Club Meeting

Members of the Arcadia Woman's club celebrated the Christmas season in the style of early Californians when they held their regular meeting yesterday at the clubhouse with the president, Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, presiding. Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff and her California History and Landmarks Section were in charge of beautiful decorations and Mrs. LeRoy Anderson was program chairman for the day.

Elaborate Decorations

Centering the auditorium was a lovely white Christmas tree, festooned with colored lights and gay ornaments, with over 100 packages—a gift for each person present—underneath. Mrs. Anderson was in charge of the tree. The stage was a picture of poinsettias, greenery and berries, rugs, crude carts of gourds, bouquets of poinsettias, greenery and berries, burning red tapers in brass candelabra, and native figurines. Chandeliers were hung with greenery from the fir tree, tinsel and red Christmas bells. The mantel in the foyer was lovely with greenery and tiny figures, depicting the Christmas story. Mrs. Frances Needham arranged it.

Each luncheon table was centered with a lighted candle nestled in a circlet of red berries. Mrs. John Kaskel was luncheon chairman, and was assisted by Mesdames Senghas, Beery, Bunting, Beanston, Arklin, Ferrante and Radley, the latter Mrs. Kaskel's guest.

Guests of club members introduced during the luncheon hour were Mesdames Leona Gardner, Kaurin, Lucille Lindell, F. M. Spencer, W. E. Rooks and Miss Jannie Gale.

Business Meeting

Mrs. Charles W. Stewart opened the business meeting by leading in the Salute to the Flag, all singing one verse of "America" with Mrs. LeRoy Anderson at the piano. The president then brought a brief but inspiring message to her clubmembers, stressing the need for religion in the modern world—the need for Americans to "keep faith with the principles of their forefathers and with each other."

Voluntary donations were given for the purchase of a wheelchair to be loaned to a needy Arcadian, by the club, following discussion on the matter. Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Ellison, who is chairman of the civic welfare committee, are sending out a plea for wheel-chairs, and state that three could be placed to good use in Arcadia at the present time.

Mrs. Nellie A. White reported on the Garden Section meeting held at the home of Mrs. Boller, and Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff on the California History and Landmarks conference at Olvera street.

The club voted to display a lighted star in the large front window during the holiday season. New members introduced by the president included Mesdames Bessie Reed, Lillian Borg, R. C. Stackhouse, Carlton Wasmansdorf, H. E. Rees, F. A. Toster, and Marcia Crellin.

Delightful Program

The program opened with the assemblage singing Christmas songs, led by Mrs. Glen B. Watson, with Mrs. Anderson at the piano. Everyone joined in heartily on four old favorites: "Jingle Bells," "Deck the Hall," "Joy to the World," and "Silent Night."

In keeping with the early California spirit, Mrs. J. M. MacFarlane, wearing a high comb in her hair and with a black lace shawl about her shoulders, announced that she had brought back from Olvera street, something for each club member, and reaching into a gaily-decorated basket, threw innumerable "cassanovas" into the crowd. Following an old custom, they were to be broken on the head of anyone not joining in the fun. They were made of egg-shells painted with a face, dressed in crepe-paper, and filled with confetti.

Mrs. Anderson introduced Mrs. Edith Roberts, well-known for her splendid book-reviews, who has brought many hours of pleasure to the club in the past. Mrs. Roberts in her usual charming way, gave a beautiful review of "The Little Sod House," by Bess Streeter Aldrich.

The gala day concluded as Santa Claus—played by Mrs. Charles Willey—wearing real sleigh bells, a red and white suit and a flowing beard, came in, received promises from the "children" that they had been "good" and distributed the gifts from the tree.

Eleanor Lucas President of Woman's Club Juniors

Miss Eleanor Lucas was elected first president of the Junior Section of the Arcadia Woman's Club at the group's third meeting, held last night at the home of Miss Virginia Hostutler, 436 West Duarte road. Miss Lucas has served as temporary chairman since the section's organization on November 2. Miss Hostutler was elected vice president, Miss Eleanor Ott, secretary, Miss Virginia Brown, treasurer. Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, president of the Woman's Club, assisted with the election.

Take Office

Immediately following their election, officers took up their respective duties. Miss Lucas appointed three committee chairmen as follows: Courtesy, Mrs. Mary Bellinger; Press, Mrs. Lois Sharkey; Membership, Miss Dorothy Walters.

Plans were made for a group of the girls to meet next Monday afternoon at one o'clock at the home of Miss Lucas, to complete dressing the dolls for the Fire Department. There are more than thirty still to be dressed, and girls who cannot attend the sewing bees are asked to take dolls home.

Tentative plans were made for a benefit St. Patrick's dance on Mar. 19.

Social Hour

At the close of the business meeting, gifts were exchanged, the hostess distributing packages from a beautiful lighted Christmas tree. With Miss Ruth Geiger at the piano and Miss Norma Parks accompanying with her violin, all joined in singing Christmas carols.

The hostess, assisted by Miss Gertrude Dickinson and Miss Virginia Brown, served delicious refreshments. Christmas motif was carried out in red and white paper plates and napkins, and in the decorations about the house. Red berries were attractively arranged, and on the buffet were tall green candles tied with red ribbon.

Sixteen Present

Attending were: Miss Gertrude Dickinson, Eleanor Lucas, Eleanor Ott, Carol Vassalo, Lois Mann, Virginia Brown, Dorothy Walters, Norma Parks, Ruth Geiger; Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, president of the Woman's Club; Mrs. Harold W. Johns and Mrs. John Hostutler, advisers; Mrs. Anne Leigh, Mrs. Mary Bellinger, Mrs. Lois Sharkey, and the hostess.

Woman's Club Hold Christmas Luncheon and Program

The Arcadia Woman's Club observed a beautiful Christmas celebration at their clubhouse on South First Avenue last Wednesday afternoon. The rooms were decked with holly, deodar greenery and spicy firs. Members were greeted in the reception rooms by hostesses. On the mantel, Mrs. Frances Needham had arranged a minature scene of Bethlehem and the manger.

Beautiful Decorations

In the large central room of the clubhouse, the luncheon tables were arranged in the form of a star, and in the center the decorations were climaxed by a beautiful silvery white tree which towered to the ceiling. It was decorated with sparkling tinsel and soft lights. Mrs. LeRoy Anderson had charge of decorating of the tree. Under the branches, all the gifts of the clubwomen were placed.

The California History and Landmarks Section of the club had charge of the decorations on the tables and throughout the room. Each of the twenty tables were centered with a candleholder and a large red lighted taper, which was surrounded by crisp, greenery and holly. Underneath the three, the members of the section had arranged a silver sleigh, white reindeers, and a Santa Claus, which glistened with shining snow.

On the stage, different periods of transportation were represented. Mr. Everett Grosline, personally loaned to Mrs. Emilie Timerhoff, a sleigh which was recently completed and is to be placed on exhibit in the Lafayette Park Library in Los Angeles. Mrs. J. M. MacFarland had charge of stage decorations, which also included artistically arranged holly and festoons of silver.

The same holiday theme was carried out in all the rooms, with deodars dripping with silver tinsel and red swinging bells.

Friendly Luncheon Hour

Mrs. John Kaskel was chairman of the luncheon committee, and was assisted by her daughter Mrs. Karla Senghas, Mrs. Waunita Bunting, Mrs. Keith Beanston, Mrs. Robert Ferrante, Mrs. Charles Beery, and Mrs. Radney, a friend from Los Angeles. They served an attractive and delicious luncheon which carried out the Yuletide theme too.

Durnig the luncheon, Mrs. Charles Stewart, president fo the club, gave a beautiful thought, "we should stress the spirit of friendship." With this in mind, she called on a number of the older members to introduce the new members at the respective tables.

New members of the club were also introduced and included: Mesdames Bessie Reed, Lillian Borg, R. C. Stackhouse, May Bellinger, H. E. Reiss, Carlton Wasmanszorg, and Marcia Crellen.

Short Business Meeting

Mrs. Stewart presided at the short business meeting, at which time it was decided to have a large lighted star in the clubhouse window during the holidays instead of the decorated Christmas tree on the lawn. The members decided they would put the money they saved from this, into the fund for the purchase of a wheel chair.

Mrs. Leona Burton started contributions toward the wheel chair, as did Mrs. W. G. Lewis, Mrs. Kaskel and Mrs. Crellen. It is believed that there is now enough for the purchase. Many gifts were brought which will be used in the welfare work during Christmas times, and included jams and jellies, clothing and canned goods, all which were placed in the "Charity Chimney."

Gayety Marks Program

The California History and Landmarks sections surprised all of the members, when they were led by Mrs. MacFarland in a "Coffarone," which is an old Mexican custom in which eggs which have been blown out, are filled with colorful confectti, painted with faces and donned with gay tissue paper caps. They were thrown at the women. The members cracked the eggs on one another's heads and the festoons of confetti, were draped about their necks.

While just at that moment Santa Claus (Mrs. Charles Willey) assisted by Janie Gale distributed gifts to all the members and their friends. Then Mrs. Glen Watson led the members in a group of Christmas carols, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. LeRoy Anderson, program chairman of the day.

Mrs. Edith Roberts gave a every beautiful review, "A Lantern In Her Hand," by Bessie Street Aldrich, which further carried out the Chrsitmas message. Mrs. Stewart also brought a short message to the club members in which she stressed "Peace On Earth, Goodwill To Men."

Everyone enjoyed this outstanding "Christmas Day" at the club.

Annual Christmas Celebration Held At Olvera Street

The California History and Landmarks Section of the Arcadia Woman's Club joined County and District members in the annual Christmas celebration at Olvera Street, last Friday morning.

Approximately 200 hundred ladies of the California History, C.F.W.C. were gathered by 12 o'clock in the pictureque street, which despite the rain was gay and colorful. A delicious Mexican luncheon was served at La Golonrina, with the famed hostess, Senora de Bonza, presiding in her usual hospitable and charming way.

The story of "The Nativity" formed a beautiful climax to the impressiveness of the day, and was told by Senora de Bonza. In the quiet candlelight, the symbols and decorations took one back to the long ago, and the soft music added the final touch needed for the beauty and splendor of the occasion.

Club Members Hear Christmas Music, Talks

Even the pressure of last-minute shopping could not keep the members of the Woman's Club away from the Club house today, and a large group gathered to hear a varied and interesting program.

After the Board meeting and business meeting had been disposed of, the members turned, at 11:15 a. m., to hear a program of special music, the reading of Christmas poems by Miss Elizabeth Schermerhorn, and a review of recent books by Mrs. May Stanley Mason, who appeared in place of Mr. George Pearson, the latter being unavoidably absent.

A cafeteria luncheon was served at 12:30 p. m., and then the group had the pleasure of hearing a most interesting talk by Mrs. Grace Caukin, who described her recent visit to Washington, spoke of the new cooperative market, and of many other innovations observed in the nation's Capital. Mrs. Caukin is a keen observer, and her hearers carried away some vivid impressions of Washington, as seen through her eyes.

Juniors Must Pay Dues January 15

Members of the Junior Section of the Arcadia Woman's Club must have paid a portion of their $3.00 dues by January 15 in order to have their names listed in the program book, Eleanor Lucas, president announced today. Dues should be paid to Miss Dorothy Walters, membership chairman.

Clubhouse Scene Of Dance Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow evening, the Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse will be the scene of the season's first evening dance, being given by Mrs. Charles Willey, chairman of the club building committee, and her co-workers. Tickets at $1.00 per couple are still obtainable, and may be purchased at the door tomorrow night.

Today, Mrs. Willey announces that during the dance, refreshments of punch and sodas (all you can drink) will be served.

Music will be furnished by the well-known Shumard's Rhythm Boys. Highlights of the dance will be a waltz contest, with Mrs. Willey, and Messrs. A. R. Campbell, Dick Leonard, Jack Zelkowitz, and James Bone as judges, and the awarding of a door prize—a 12-pound turkey —given by Robinson's Market.

Mrs. John A. Renshaw, Mrs. A. R. Chambers, Mrs. Gus Kaskel, Mrs. LeRoy Chambers, Mrs John Kaskel, and Mrs. John Hostutler, will be hostesses for the evening.

Woman's Club Program Given Many Additions

Last-minute changes were the order of the day in the program given by the Woman's Club, at the Club house Wednesday.

In the absence of Mr. Pearson, several members contribu ed numbers to fill out the hour or more which was to have been given over to book reviews.

Miss Elizabeth Schermerhorn gave a delightful reading of "The Babe At the Inn," by Delle Oglesbee Ross, a Christmas play which was given added charm and beauty through Miss Schermerhorn's fine interpretation. Mrs. E. B. Mason reviewed ten of the new books, including Stefan Zweig's "The Buried Candelabrum," Upton Sinclair's "The Flivver King," Harold Shapiro's "What Every Young Man Should Know About War," Hendrik Van Loon's "The Arts," Elmer Rice's story of New York, "Imperial City," and Dixon Wecter's "A Saga of American Society."

Mrs. Layfield, a former resident of Sierra Madre who is now making her home in Pasadena, sang two lovely Christmas songs which were heartily applauded.

Luncheon followed the morning program, and at the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Grace Caukin gave a spirited and highly-interesting word picture of her recent trip East, which included visits to New York, Boston, Albany and Washington.

Mrs. Caukin gave a delightful account of an herb garden which one enterprising woman is conducting near Washington, and described one of the newer ventures which women are undertaking, this one being the Montgomery Farm Women's Cooperative Market, which is being conducted at Bethesda, Maryland.

When the drought swept over Maryland, these women knew they must do something to make money, or see their farm-lands foreclosed. The Council of Home Demonstration Clubs worked with the women, and brought in specialists in tutrition, poultry-raising, dairying and animal husbandry, that the products to be offered for sale might be standardized.

Today the farm-homes of Montgomery County are free of debt, and the woman's market is an unqualified success. The question which arose in many minds as Mrs. Caukin outlined the venture was: Why not do something like that in Southern California?

Wheel Chair Christmas Gift From Woman's Club

A permanent Christmas gift—one to be shared and to bring comfort to many Arcadians—was given this week by the Arcadia Woman's Club, when the members, working through the Civil Welfare committee of the club, purchased a wheel-chair. The chair will be loaned to Arcadia persons who may need it and who otherwise would be unable to have access to such a help during sickness or other disability. It will be maintained, as it rotates from home to home, under the supervision of the executive board, which will record a short story of each person who uses it.

HEARTY RESPONSE

When the suggestion of the wheel-chair purchase was made to the club at its annual Christmas party last week, a ready response of cash from members made it possible to buy the chair in time for it to be used by a grateful man on Christmas Day.

Mrs. A. B. Ellison, chairman of the welfare committee of the club, supervised the purchase and delivery of the chair. An engraved plaque bearing the name of the club and the purpose of the gift will be attached to it.

GOOD-WILL OFFERINGS

The "Friendly Chair" was not the only Christmas offering of good will to others offered by the club this Christmas, for four needy families will be cheered by generous baskets filled with canned food and jellies brought to the clubhouse by members and placed in the gift chimney for this purpose. Many gifts of wearing apparel will [illegible] by persons through the welfare committee.

While the club members had a most happy day for themselves at their Christmas-tree festivities last with the realization that they were bringing a joyous Yuletide to week, that good time was made more gay . . . more significant . . . someone else.

REMEDIES FOR BUSINESS SANS FRIENDS TOLD

Van De Kamp Executive Gives Interesting Address At Club Luncheon Today

Remedies for a "friendless business" were outlined today in an interesting luncheon address to members of the Arcadia Woman's Club at a regular meeting of the unit by Carl Lucas, cashier for Van de Kamp's Holland Dutch Bakery Company.

Mr. Lucas brought a stirring and challenging message at the initial 1938 gathering of the organization. Speaking on "A Business Without Friends," Mr. Lucas stated "Business is caught in the jaws of a triple nut-cracker. From below it is pushed irresistibly by labor problems. From another side it is pounded by the weight of multiplying taxes and statutory regulatons."

Constant Threat

"It is then thrust against the third jaw of the nut-cracker, an active, vocal and militant consumer movement, which is constantly threatening to displace private enterprise with consumer cooperation."

Mr. Lucas not only asked what could be done about it, but gave constructive answers to his own questions. "First," he stated, "business must open its eyes to the fact of its friendlessness. Then the second thing is to recognize where we go from this point if the current wave of antagonism to business is not checked."

Restore Fragments

It is necessary to restore the broken fragments of belief in the integrity of business and in its broad social usefulness to the future development of a well-ordered, democratic America.

"The third thing that business must do in its friendless state is to recognize its necessity for unity," Mr. Lucas told his audience, "and the fourth need of business is to recognize that its critics are not entirely talking through their hats."

Mr. Lucas summed up his two final points "the obligation upon business is to assume a new duty to itself, the duty of interpreting itself to the public, and to get a new interest in, and knowledge of, the true case for business from the social standpoint."

ARCADIA CLUB WOMEN PROGRAM

There was the usual enthusiastic meeting of the Arcadia Woman's club held yesterday in the clubhouse on S. First ave. with the president, Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, presiding during the luncheon and business session.

Mrs. George Schenck arranged an effective decorative scheme, using trailing ivy and marigolds on the long luncheon tables and stage.

Seated at the president's table were the chairmen of standing committees, each of whom gave a brief response to the president's introductions.

Club members introduced their guests seated at the tables, many of whom were prospective members, newcomers to Arcadia.

Harold Noon, publisher of the Arcadia News and Tribune, was a guest of the club accompanying the luncheon speaker, Carl Lucas, cashier for Van de Kamp's Bakery, who brought a practical message to the women on "Friendliness in Business."

At the opening of the afternoon session, the president brought a brief New Year's message to the members.

Mrs. Charles Hoover, a new member, has accepted the appointment of chairman of the motion picture section. Her experience in previewing in connection with P.-T. A. work enables her to step into that department with her assistants, all of whom will attend the next conference of the federation in Los Angeles.

Under the leadership of the chairman, Mrs. Nellie White, the garden section of the Arcadia club will attend the all-day federation meeting to be held in the Monrovia club next week, postponing their own meeting to do so.

Mrs. Ardene Boller gave the club a talk on federation. She is the federation secretary from the Arcadia club, who will have charge of the luncheon program for the next club day when federation section chairmen will be guests with Mrs. John Stearns Thayer.

Mrs. LeRoy Anderson, as program chairman for the day, presented Schuyler Ladd, monologist.

Mrs. Hoover has had a wealth of experience in this field, having formerly been connected in Los An geles with the P.T.A. division of this field. Mrs. Hoover will not only build up this section of the club but will also represent the organization in all the district meetings of this division.

Woman's Club Meeting Promises Outstanding Year

The Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse was the scene of an outstanding meeting on Wednesday, when over seventy members gathered for luncheon and also to hear the vital message which Mr. Carl Lucas, ex ecutive of the Van De Camp's Bak ery Company, appearing through the courtesy of Mr. H. Harold Noon, publisher of the two Arcadia news papers, brought to them.

Speaking on "A Business Without Friends," Mr. Lucas stated the pres ent conditions in business and gave remedies and solutions to the im perative problems.

Luncheon was in charge of Mrs. Bert Morris, chairman and her com mittee of hostesses which includ ed: Mrs. C. C. Hoffman, Mrs. Anne Schouten, Mrs. Hermione Beanston, Miss Emily Falconer, Mrs. Caroline Ganther and Mrs. Gertrude Schenck.

President Brings Message

Mrs. Charles Stewart, president of the group, opened the business meeting, stressing the theme of "Peace Among Ourselves," as the theme of the club for the New Year.

After the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Ruth Harpole, the monthly treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Ina Millspaugh.

Mrs. Florence Boller gave a short sketch on the numerous and inter esting activities of the various Dis rict Sections of the club, urging members to acquaint themselves with the varied groups.

Mrs. Stewart presented Mrs. Charles E. Hoover, new member of the club, who was recently appoint ed to head the Motion Picture Section. Mrs. Hoover comes with a wealth of experience in this field, and will attend all scheduled con ferences of her group.

Members were urged to attend the Dessert Bridge Party which will be held at the Clubhouse next Wednesday at 12:45. Reservations can be made by phoning Mrs. Le Roy Anderson at 2750 or Mrs. Keith Beanston at 2470.

Monologist Presented

Mrs. Anderson, as program chair man of the day, presented Mr. Schuyler Ladd, professional mono logist of New York and Hollywood, who gave several clever and highly entertaining selections.

With the climaxing of such a highly successful meeting, members are more than confident of an other outstanding year in the Club's history.

President Gives Dinner Party For Executive Board

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Stewart were hos s recently to member of the Executive Board of the Ar cadia Woman's club and their hus bands, at a 6:30 holiday dinner. Following the dinner Mr. Stewart entertained the men in the studio before the open fire, while Mrs. Stewart as President of the club, conducted a short business meeting.

Mr Stewart later showe d mo tion pictures to the group, "Waters of Yosemite" and also a reel on China.

Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames: Eugene Harpole, Mark Millspaugh, A. R. Chambers, John Renshaw, Ardene Boller, Dr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Reynolds, Council man and Mrs. C. C. Hoffman, Mr. Powell, Mrs. Millspaugh's fa her, who is visiting here from Minnesota, and Mr and Mrs. Stewart .

District Garden Section Meeting Huge Success

Twenty-five women represented the Arcadia Woman's Club Garden section Tuesday at the January conference of the garden division of the Los Angeles Federation of Women's Clubs, held at the Monrovia Woman's Clubhouse. Two hundred were in attendance at the noon luncheon, served by Mrs. Louise Moore and her committee.

The conference started at 10 o'clock, Mrs. G. S. Roach, district chairman, presiding at a brief business meeting. Mrs. E. Y. Hartwell, chairman of the Monrovia garden section planned the day and presided. She was assisted by Mrs. George Monroe, co-chairman, Mrs. Frank Nance, Mrs. Louise Moore and Mrs. F. A. Bliss.

Splendid Talk

Highlighting the morning program was a talk given by Miss Elizabeth Bodger, member of the Bodger family, pioneers in the production of wholesale flower seeds. "Hybridizing" was the subject discussed. Miss Bodger said the sweet pea is the most popular flower with the nasturtium second. At the conclusion of her talk, the speaker showed slides of choice flower specimens. There was a table of unusual plants and flowers which attracted a great deal of attention.

Garden Tours

Following the luncheon a motor caravan was formed and visits to several gardens were enjoyed. Included were the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Grandlin, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Abbott Satterthwait, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Shallcross, all of Monrovia, and that of Mrs. A. R. Jewell in East Pasadena.

Arcadians Attend

Among those who represented the Arcadia garden section were: Mesdames Boller, Cousins, Crader, Evans, Kohler, MacFarlane, McCormick, Noack, Spencer, White, Browder, Thompson, Murfett, Fox, Seger, Anderson, Cockshott, Moss, Stanley and others.

Federation In 38th Birthday Celebration

The 38th birthday of the California Federation of Women's Clubs which falls on January 17, 1938, will be celebrated by Los Angeles District, C. F. W. C. at its Presidents' Council, Thursday, January 20, at Compton Junior College, 601 South Acacia street, Compton. The Pathfinder Club of Compton, Mrs. Earl R. Pine, President, will be the hostes club.

Mrs. John Stearns Thayer, Los Angeles District President, will preside at both the morning and afternoon sessions. Mrs. Robert J. Burdette of Pasadena, first president of California Federation of Woman's Clubs, and Mrs. Albert Launer of Fullerton, Vice-president-at-large, C. F. W. C., will be guests of honor.

Outstanding in the program for the day will be the cutting of the "mystery birthday cake" in the afternoon by the nine directors of the Los Angeles District. Mrs. R. J. Morrison, of Pacific Palisades, one of the directors, has made all arrangements for the ceremony.

Chairman Attends Motion Picture Conference

Mrs. Charles E. Hoover, recently appointed chairman of the motion picture department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, attended a motion picture conference at Los Angeles District Federation headquarters, on Friday, January 21. Interesting speakers from the motion picture world addressed the conference, and on the program was Miss Ann Brauckens, editing director of Paramount Studios, who gave a technical talk on the editing and cutting of motion pictures. Miss Brauckens worked on the "Buccaneer," which was filmed at Catalina.

Mrs. Alice Field of the Hill Hayes studio in Hollywood, spoke on the important part women occupy in the motion picture world, yet so few have reached the highest position, especially in research work. She mentioned three pictures —"The Buccaneer," "Wells Fargo" and "In Old Chicago" and declared them of especial interest because of their American historical background.

Mrs. Hoover's hope that Arcadia clubwomen will find sufficient interest in the study of motion pictures to justify the forming of a study group. Motion pictures—their various ramifications, their effect on the lives of countless millions of people for good or ill, is a subject in which all should find a great absorbing interest.

State Federation Celebrates 38th Birthday

Nearly 1000 members of the Los Angeles District California Federation Of Women's Clubs, celebrated the 38th anniversary of the State Federation yesterday at Compton, with the Pathfinders Club of that city acting as hostess, and capably managing the throng throughout the day. Mrs. John Stewart, of Hemet, State chairman of federation building, challenged the women to look to their standards of living, in one of the day's outstanding talks, stating that women of other lands are looking to American womanhood for a better world.

"The power of organized womanhood is a sacred trust. Let us see to it that we do not wast that power"—the speaker pleaded.

Mrs. John Stearns Thayer, district president, presided, many brief talks and a fine program of music being offered. High light during the morning was the unanimous adoption of a resolution protesting against abbreviation of the word "California" on the 1938 motor vehicle license plates. Mrs. James T. Dickson of Alhambra, district chairman of international relations, was chief speaker in the afternoon. Mrs. R. J. Morrison on the Pacific Palisades presented the federation with a huge birthday cake which concealed a gift of money for headquarters.

Ten women, headed by the president, Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, represented the Arcadia Woman's Club —including—the president and Mesdames C. C. Hoffman, J. M. MacFarlane, Ardene Boller, John Ren-

Federation Day Celebrates Outstanding Day At Club

Federation Day celebrated at the Arcadia Woman's Club on Wednesday, more than lived up to the expectations of members, Federation Officers and guests that were present.

The clubhouse was brilliant with huge bowls of yellow, gold marigolds that had been donated through the courtesy of the Los Angeles Turf Club. In the reception hall of the clubhouse were tall vases filled with feathery heather which came from the gardens of Mrs. Fannie Needham.

Luncheon Hour

Guests and members of the club were seated at long tables which were artistically decorated with yellow and gold marigolds and the effective use of large flat leaves. Mrs. Helen Hall, Mrs. Margaret McMasters and Mrs. Gertrude Schenck had charge of the attractive decorations, assisted by Mrs. Evelyn Ford of Monrovia.

Each of the Federation guests were presented with pink camellia corsages tied with silver ribbon.

During the luncheon, which was in charge of Mrs. Anne Schouten, chairman and her committee of hostesses, Mesdames Clara Smith, Caroline Ganther, Clara Morris, Blodwen Ferrente and Gertrude Schenck, Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, president of the club, welcomed the Federation Guests.

Guests Introduced

Mrs. Stewart, in her usual charming and gracious way, expressed to the guests, "that it is always in one's home that one becomes sincerely acquainted." Mrs. Stewart not only pointed out the advantages of visiting the Federation headquarters on the part of the members, bu. lso that the District officers could really see the true functioning of a club in one's own clubhouse.

The president then introduced Mrs. John Stearns Thayer, District President of the Los Angeles Federation, who spoke later in the afternoon.

Each of the sectional officers then introduced their special guests of the day, who responded with a three minute talk.

Mrs. Nellie White, garden section chairman introduced Mrs. G. S. Roach; Mrs. Elizabeth Ingram, literature section chairman introduced Mrs. Corinne K. Wright; Mrs. Emilie Timerhoff, California History and Landmarks section chairman intoduced Mrs. W. J. Hathaway.

Mrs. Ruth Chandler, international relations chairman, introduced Mrs. James Dickinson; Mrs. Charles Hoover, chairman of motion pictures introduced Mrs. Richad M. White. Mrs. Ardene Boller, federation secretary of the local group, who made all the arrangements of the day, introduced her guest, Miss Elizabeth Elliott, Los Angeles District Federation director.

Short Business Meeting

Mrs. Stewart conducted the short business meeting, with the minutes being read by Mrs. McMasters in the absence of Mrs. Ruth Harpole, who much to the regret of members was unable to be present, because of an arm injury.

Announcements were made by sectional chairmen pretaining to their specific meetings, and Mrs. John Renshaw also reported on a Reciprocity Luncheon - Meeting which she attended recently in Temple City. Mrs. Stewart announced "Scout Night" which will be held this evening, and urged all members to be present.

Musical and Dramatic Program

Mrs. LeRoy Anderson and Miss Betty Wetmore of Arcadia, presented a group of beautiful musical numbers. Mrs. Anderson played as her violin solos, "Songs My Mother-er Taught Me," by Kreisler-Dvorak and "Spanish-Gypsy Song" by Fritz Kreisler. While Betty Wetmore sang as her vocal selections, "Spirit Flower' and "My Lover Is A Fisherman." Both of the artists were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Mattie B. Beck, former president of the club.

Mrs. Fannie Needham, because of the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Frances Needham, took charge of the dramatic tableau, which portrayed and urged peace. Those taking part in the impressive staging were: Mesdames Emilie Timerhoff, Ardene Boller, Lyda Fiske,

Scout Night Event At Arcadia Woman's Club

Parents and clubmembers assembled last night at the Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse to honor and entertain members of Boy Scout Troop number 5, which is sponsored by the club. Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, club president, extended a gracious welcome to those present on behalf of the club, and presented Dr. C. W. Shier, representing the troop committee, in charge of the evening's program in the absence of Mr. R. H. Dickinson.

Dr. Shier made an interesting report on what the troop has accomplished since its organization a year ago. Mr. Albert Berkompas Scoutmaster, deserves a great deal of credit for the fine work which the boys are already able to do. Mr. Berkompas presented the troop and charter and later members were each called by name.

A number of the boys appeared on the program, which included a group of 3 piano solos by Russell Randolph; a selection on the accordion by Robert Miller; a clarinet duet, "Sweet and Low," by Russell Randolph and Howard Borden, with Mrs. LeRoy Anderson at the piano.

A. B. Prescott, field Scout executive, department of troop organization of the Pasadena and San Gabriel Council, gave a splendid address on "What Is Scouting." He said that Boy Scout leaders are selected with the utmost care because of the high standard of character and citizenship which a Boy Scout is expected to acquire. He suggested that the boys be given every opportunity to practice citizenship.

The boys demonstrated some of their drill requirements, greatly enjoyed by those present. The program closed with color retreat.

The men's committee of the troop includes R. H. Dickinson, Dr. C. W. Shier, Dr. A. Carlton Ambler, C. J. Smith. Mrs. Faith Coombs, president of the Arcadia P.T.A. Council, who heads the committee with Mr. Dickinson, was hostess for the evening. A very enjoyable social evening followed the program. Refreshments were served by the social committee of the Woman's Club: Mrs. Maurice Trew, chairman, Mrs. Hugh Sanborn, and Mrs. Queenie Arklin.

After last nights performance and demonstration, the Woman's Club feels very proud of these fine boys, 18 in number, of troop No., 5, and wishes for them much future success and happiness.

History Section Meets With Mrs. Diggins

Mrs. F. H. Diggins, of 428 West Huntington Drive, was hostess to the California History and Landmarks Section, when they met at her home last Wednesday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Emilie Mann Timmerhoff chairman, presided over the meeting Reports were given on various current problems of historical interest. Mrs. J. M. MacFarlane conducted the Spanish word drill, with all members participating.

Attenton was called by the chairman, to the excellent historical articles which have appeared in the Arcadia Tribune and Arcadia News, written by Elizabeth Schermerhorn editor of the latter paper. It was suggested that Miss Schermerhorn be made honorary member of the section, and was carried by a unanimous vote.

"Go West, Young Man"

Mr. Fletcher R. Flynn, a young Harvard graduate, gave an graphic picture of the problems that young people have to face today. From his own background of honest effort at self-support in many different directions and sections of the country, he drew comparison with the old time Californian whose life was lived in leisurely fashion. His talk was entitled "Go West, Young Man."

Mr. Flynn complimented the members of the section on being interested in the history of their state, and the splendid work they are accomplishing.

Mrs. Bert Rubottom drew a vivid picture of the "Old Days" when Russia threatened to take over Northern California, a the events that followed in rapid succession.

Social Hour Follows

A social hour followed the varied program, with the hostess being assisted by Mesdames E. Hamilton and Dan Rose. Those attending were: Mesdames J. M. MacFarlane, George Barngrover, Mark Millspaugh, C. Hoover, Bert Robottom, G. Meade, R. Schwarzkopf, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rickett, Miss Eva Reynolds, Mr. Flynn, Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff, and the hostesses.

Reciprocity Day Features Woman's Club Wednesday

Reciprocity Day, which is an annual observance, will feature the meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club next Wednesday, February 2. Invitations have been sent out and are being limited to neighboring Women's Clubs.

Elaborate plans have been made for this meeting which will honor visiting club officers, with decorations, under the direction of Mrs. J. J. MacFarlane, being made to carry out the Valentine motif.

Luncheon Hour

During the luncheon hour, each visiting officer will be introduced by her hostess. Mrs. Charles Dillingham, Hospitality chairman, has had charge of the appointment of hostess-members for the guests. Members will join in songs of welcome, and Mrs. Charles Stewart, president of the local club, will extend the official welcome of the day.

Following the luncheon hour, a short business meeting will be conducted at 2 o'clock, with reports being presented by the various section chairmen, as well as a report of the C. F. W. C. Conference, which was held last week in Compton.

Program Hour

The program hour will be in charge of Mrs. LeRoy Anderson, who will present Miss Helen Cartwright of Hollywood and her accompanist. Miss Cartwright has a studio of dance and is not only an exponent of practical dance interpretation, but will also present a group of numbers. Her accompanist will also present a group of piano solos.

Luncheon Reservations

Club members are urged to make their reservations early by phoning the luncheon chairman, Mrs. A. L. Parker, at 726.

Mrs. Brandt Is Hostess To Garden Section

Mrs. Flora Brandt of 716 West Huntington Drive, was hostess on Tuesday afternoon to members of the Garden Section of the Arcadia Woman's Club, when they met at her attractive home at 1:30 o'clock.

The rooms were decorated with seasonal flowers, and made a fitting setting for the meeting that followed with Mrs. Nellie White, sectional chairman, presiding.

Miss Grace McCurdy gave a most enlightening talk on the value and uses of grasses, not only to the garden lover, but also to the human race as well. What the 'lowly" grass has done for mankind, was illustrated by interesting examples. Miss McCurdy also spoke on the many uses of all types of grass in the flower arrangements of the modern hostess.

Members conducted their monthly "Question Box" on the pruning of roses, which is of importance for this season of the year. The garden lovers also participated in a discussion on general garden lore.

Attractive Tea

Mrs. Brandt was assisted during the social hour, by Mrs. Lucy Kohler, as co-hostess, with tea being served to over twenty-five members. The tea table further carried out the Spanish motif of the home, with colored pottery and Mexican glass being used.

Many Guests At Woman's Club Reciprocity Meeting

St. Valentine stepped out of the past yesterday to greet members and guests of the Arcadia Woman's Club, when the annual Reciprocity meeting was held at the clubhouse. The auditorium was a dainty picture in red and white flowers and appointments, when seventy-five sat down to a delicious luncheon at 12:30. Club executives and visitors found places at long tables arranged to form a "T"—smaller tables flanking either side.

Valentine Decoration

Each table was decorated with a valentine of flowers — red and white sweet peas in a low container, placed on a silver doilie—with thin white tapers centering the bouquet. Valentine nut cups and napkins marked each place. Members of the club executive board were charming Colonial ladies, dressed in gowns of the early American period.

Welcome Guests

Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, president of the Arcadia Woman's Club, presided, and extended a gracious welcome to the geusts. She introduced Mrs. Charles A. Dilllingham, hospitality chairman, and the various hostesses, who in turn introduced their guests, as follows:

Mr. Wilson—Mrs. Coffman, president of Rosemead club; Mrs. Hoover—Mrs. Knott, president of San Gabriel; Mrs. McNair—Mrs. Sutherland, treasurer of Glendora; Mrs. Cockshott, Mrs. Higbie, president of Baldwin Park; Mrs. James Bone—Mrs. McEachen, president of Altadena; Mrs. John Granville—Mrs. Snyder, president of Azusa; Mrs. Hardy Harris—Mrs. Myers, president of Sierra Made; Ms. Virginia Diggins—Mrs. Richards, vice president of Michillinda; Mrs. Russell Lucas—Mrs. Booth, treasurer of Monrovia; Mrs. Marshall — Mrs. Rhodes, vice president of El Monte and Mrs. Margaret McMaster—Mrs. Hill, president of Temple City.

The following were guests of club-members: Mrs. Cora Humphries, Mrs. F. M. Spencer, Mrs. Schinaffle, Mrs. Ekman, Mrs. Doris Cutter and Mrs. J. Walker.

Business Meeting

At the 2 o'clock business meeting, with president Mrs. Stewart presiding, several communications were read by Mrs. Lulu Reynolds, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Nellie A. White announced the Garden Section meeting on February 22, to take place at the home of Mrs. Viola Andrews. It will be a colonial meeting. Mrs. Timerhoff reported on the recent California History and Landmarks meeting.

Afternoon Program

Mrs. LeRoy Anderson, program chairman for the day, introduced Helen Cartwright, well known instructor of the dance, and her accompanist, Gerhardt Dorn. The program included dances of many nations by Helen Cartwright and modern and classic piano solos by Mr. Dorn. Wearing appropriate costumes, the artist presented a Kentucky dance, and dances of Hindu, Nazi and Java origin.

Mr. Dorn, in addition to his accomplishments as a pianist, is organist at the German-Lutheran church in Hollywood.

Committees

Mrs. Ida Parker was luncheon chairman, and was assisted by Mesdames Kohler, Stanley, Moss, Tester, Perry and Millspaugh. Mrs. Roy Pike was responsible for the table decorations, and was assisted by Mrs. Andrews. Mrs. MacFarlane arranged the favors.

Guest Speaker At Club Noted Authority

When members gather at the Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock, they will have several treats in store for them. During the luncheon hour, entertainment will be furnished by the well known radio personality, Pauline Holden.

Miss Holden appears regularily over a scheduled program, and has had a growing popular appeal the past several years.

It is announced that tables for the luncheon will be arranged around the outer edge of the room, leaving the center of the auditorium for the large display of linens and fabrics which will feature the afternoon program.

Noted Authority

Mr. Edgar Harrison Wileman, guest speaker of the afternoon, is known throughout California as a leading authority on all phases of interior decorating.

Since 1923, Mr. Wileman has been a lecturer and consultant director of Barker Brothers. In 1926, because of his work in the field of home decoration and design, he was named to the faculty of the adult education extension division at the University of Southern California.

In 1927 he was elected to the faculty of the College of Architecture of the same institution. Besides these numerous activities, he is the consultant director of Interior Decorating for our coast-famed Sunset magazine. Undoubtedly you have seen many of his articles in national and local magazines.

Mr. Wileman will bring with him a large and varied display of the latest interior fabrics for spring decorating, as well as a beautiful collection of linen. These will be displayed down the center of the auditorium.

The entire program is planned around the home lover's interests and a large crowd is anticipated.

Garden Section Enjoys Tour

Twenty five members of the Garden Section of the Woman's Club motored to the charming home of Mrs. Anne Seger on Woodward Ave., Michillinda on Tuesday for the regular March meeting of the Section.

Owing to threatening showers it was decided to reverse the regular proceedings and the hostess invited her guests to accompany her through some of the attractive gardens of the vicinity. Among the artistic ones visited was that of Roma Coolidge Mulvihill whose work as a landscape artist is well known; and the gardens of Miss Janet Drake where the oriental influence was the predominant feature. Several views of this garden appeared in a recent issue of the "House Beautiful Magazine" where it was featured as a prize winner. Following this delightful trip the business meeting was called to order by the chairman Mrs. Nellie A. White.

Attendance at the annual meeting of the Federation of Calif. Garden Clubs, at Hotel Huntington, April 8, 9 and 10 was stressed and Mrs. White was elected delegate to represent the local Garden Section. Plans were also made to enter the Flower Arrangement Contest which is to be attractive feature of this meeting.

At the close of the business meeting Mrs. Nellie Noack gave an interesting talk on the subject "Pansies" their propagation and care.

Mrs. White then invited all to the garden where she presented the hostess with a Flowering Peach Tree, which she had propagated. This was then planted with proper ceremonies in observance of Arbor Day.

Social Hour

A social half hour followed with Mrs. Siger and Mrs. Bertha Thompson assisting. The hostess served delicious refreshments in the dining-room.

Mrs. White and Mrs. Evans poured.

At the annual Peach Blossom Festival, on Mar. 16 at the Woman's Club, the Program and Decorations will be in charge of the Garden Section. The chairman made an appeal to all club members to contribute peach blossoms for that event, and to bring in by 11 o'clock if possible.

Club Speaker Is Well Known Garden Authority

Miss Lois Carmichael, principal afternoon speaker for the "Peach Blossom" meeting of the Woman's Club, which will be held tomorrow at the club house, is a noted personality in her chosen fields of flowers and gardens.

Miss Carmichael not only conducts a class in flower arrangements, but is also an instructor in Pasadena in the adult education classes. The Pasadena Flower Show each year finds Miss Carmichael identified with plans and active sponsoring. But recently she has been giving a series of illustrated lectures at the department stores in Los Angeles, last week being the guest of Bullock's.

Change in Plans

There have been several changes in activities of the day and members are asked to note them. The tree planting ceremony will take place between the luncheon and business meeting, instead of at 11:30 o'clock as previously announced.

The luncheon will be held promptly at 12:15, allowing time for added features of the afternoon program, which will be in complete charge of the Garden Section members.

Members of the section will be guests at the president's table during the luncheon, which is in charge of Mrs. Mattie B. Peck, chairman, who will be assisted by Mrs. Ella Baughman Owen, general luncheon chairman of the year, and a committee of hostesses.

Reservations

Reservations of luncheon should be made immediately by phoning 8231.

Proceeds Of Dance Will Go To Red Cross

The proceeds of the second annual dance to be sponsored by the Arcadia Woman's Club at the Los Angeles Turf Club, will go to the local chapter of the Red Cross, it is announced today by Mrs. Charles Willey, general chairman of the event.

Friday, April 22, has been set for the ball with elaborate plans now going forward to make this the most successful affair the local organization has ever sponsored.

A well-known orchestra, attractive door prizes, colorful floor show and entertainment and a waltz contest are among the events of the evening.

Last year over 1000 people attended the ball, and this year even a larger attenedance is anticipated.

Mrs. Willey announces that tickets will be on sale within the next few days, and will be $1.50 a couple.

Womens Club To Participate In School Week

Calling upon all members of the California Federation of Women's Clubs to participate in the observance of public schools week, April 25, Mrs. Duncan S. Robinson, State president of the Federation, in a public statement here today declared:

"Every thinking man and woman must accept the challenge that the youth of today must be adequately prepared to meet he problems of tomorrow."

Mrs. Robinson continued:

"California Public Schools Week, precursor of American Education Week, was instituted in 1920 when a crisis confronted the schools of California and the nation, and today all communities join in fitting observance.

Need To Keep Pace

"We need to keep pace with changing problems of the times in which we live and to assure a sound educational background for the development of our young people, spiritually, morally, mentally, physically. Character education ranks first in importance and is our present chief concern—the greatest need of today. Good citizenship, and a law-abiding, law-enjoying citizenry will result from it.

"Our California school system has attained high standards through the constant vigilance and effort of those who recognize that the school is a basic part of our national life. The future of America is safe as long as the youth of this generation have influences which make for strong moral fibre and the ability to find true relationships and balance in every phase of living."

The California Congress of Parents and Teachers and the American Legion have likewise pledged their cooperation in the week's observance.

Cotton Show At Club Climaxes Dutch Luncheon Meeting

Gay little blue Dutch windmills and sprays of spring flowers on the luncheon tables, singing waitresses in starched crisp caps and a parade of beautiful models and brightly colored cotton fashions formed the background for a highly successful meeting of the Arcadia Woman's club yesterday, when over eighty members gathered at 12:30 o'clock.

Carrying out a Dutch theme in the luncheon hour and menu, members found the tables marked with little blue windmills donated through the courtesy of the Van de Kamps Holland Dutch Bakeries. Mrs. C. F. Schermerhorn had charge of the luncheon and was assisted by Mrs. Roy Pike, Mrs. Joe Hall, Mrs. J. L. Kohler, Mrs. Ellen Owens, Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. John Renshaw, Mrs. Lola Trew, Mrs. Lucille Lindell and Mrs. S. V. Schermerhorn.

Luncheon Speaker

During the luncheon hour, Mr. Carl Lucas of Van de Kamps explained in a vivid way the making of bread in many countries and the methods employed.

It was decided, preceding the afternoon meeting, to raffle off chances for the huge cake which the bakery had donated for the occasion and which centered the president's table. Mrs. Edna Anderson was the lucky winner.

During the business meeting a number of the by-laws were read and passed upno. Section chairmen made announcements concerning meetings and guests of the day were introduced. Several reports and letters were also read to members.

Mrs. Eva Reynolds and Mrs. Emilie Timerhoff were chosen as delegates to attend with the president, Mrs. Charles Stewart, the district convention which will be held in Pasadena at the Civic auditorium from April 20-22nd. Mrs. Ardene Boller, district federation secretary, made an announcement concerning plans for the convention.

Senator Speaks

Mrs. Arthur Chambers, program chairman, introduced Mr. Raymond Cannon, executive secretary of the national cotton co-action committee, who in turn introduced Senator W. Cartwright who spoke to the clubwomen and urged the use of cotton for home and fashion.

Senator Cartwright said, "Let us go cotton and give men jobs."

Miss Dorothy Turner, radio announcer, then gave a background for the cotton industry, and painted a graphic picture of how other nations are "going cotton." She urged the women of America to band together and wear cotton fabrics.

Miss Vera Joy, formerly a designer of Fifth avenue, New York, then gave the many uses the modern woman can find for cotton. She said, "There are untold possibilities to be found in the drapery department for smart fashions, if the modern woman wishes to have adventure in her gowns."

Headed by Mrs. Carla Laemmle, the attractive models showed gay sunsuits, bathing wear, shoes, and many dresses in afternoon, garden and sport wear all made of cotton. Rough fabrics and textures predominated and natural colors and peasant touches showed strong influence in all styles. Particularly unique were the cotton sheer stockings of ribbing and net and the evening dresses with their gored skirts.

The meeting concluded with the announcement that King Cotton ball would be held in the Fiesta room of the Ambassador hotel, May 3rd, with Anita Louise being crowned queen. The committee for the ball is headed by Mrs. Elizabeth Fraser Lloyd, mother of film star, Harold Lloyd.

GARDEN SECTION TO POSTPONE MEETING

Mrs. Nellie White, chairman of the Garden section of the Woman's club announced this afternoon that the regular meeting scheduled for Tuesday, April 12th, had been postponed until Tuesday, April 26th. It will be held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Parker, 40 West Huntington drive.

Beginning tomorrow, April 8th, and extending through Sunday, the Federation of California Garden clubs will meet at the Huntington hotel. Well-known authorities on garden lore as well as a flower arrangement display will be among the highlights of the three-day convention.

Mrs. Harry Marshall and Mrs. White of the local section are planning to enter arrangements in the flower show.

MANY PRIVATE PARTIES FOR TURF DANCE

Among the most recent reservations made for the second annual Turf club ball which the Arcadia Womna's club is sponsoring at the Santa Anita clubhouse on Friday evening, April 22nd, were made this week by the following: Mrs. James Bone will entertain a group of friends; Mrs. Gus Kaskell, reservations for a party of twenty; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Merriman, of Los Angeles, party of eight; Mr. and Mrs. George Boeck, Los Angeles, party of eight.

Ball Tickets Selling Fast

ARCADIA, Apr. 12.—More than 700 tickets already having been sold for the event, indications point towards the Women's Club second anual Turf Club Dance being one of the outstanding social events of the season.

The affair, which will be given Apr. 22 at the Los Angeles Turf Club, is under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Willey. Decorations, carrying out the club colors of pink and green, will be in charge of Mrs. C. C. Hoffman.

One hundred invitations have been sent to heads of clubs and organizations in neighboring communities. They will be special guests of the evening.

Among the private parties planned for the event is that of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Evans of Lumert Park, who will entertain their bridge club of 10 members; Marion Kennedy who resides at the Jonathan Club, Los Angeles, will be host to 20 guests; and Mrs. Leon A. Burton will entertain 10 guests from Beverly Hills and Long Beach.

Eleven-year-old Carol Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stevens, 724 Fairview Avenue, will appear as solo dancer during the evening. Other entertainment features are being planned. Music for dancing will be furnished by the Melvin Rhythm Boys of Pasadena.

Preparing For Turf Club Ball

MRS. CHARLES STEWART, President
Of the Arcadia Woman's club. The executive board of her club is busy under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Willey getting ready for the second annual dance and card party to be held at the Santa Anita Turf club, April 22. Proceeds of the party will be used for the club building fund and a percentage will be given to the Arcadia Red Cross.

Many baskets of flowers will make the Turf club at Santa Anita gay for the annual ball and card party to be sponsored by the Arcadia Woman's club the evening of April 22. Members of the club executive board, headed by Mrs. Charles Willey, are in charge of the affair. Mrs. C. C. Hoffman is chairman of the decoration committee.

Stage for Musicians

A stage for the orchestra is being built at one end of the pari-mutuel lobby which will be banked with flowers and greenery. The dancers will assemble in this lobby while the dining room will be used for the card players.

A number of out-of-town people are planning to attend with parties. These hosts include Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Evans of Los Angeles who are entertaining a party of ten; Maron Kennedy of the Jonathan club is bringing a party of 20 of his San Marino friends, and Mrs. Leora Burton of Arcadia is entertaining ten guests from Long Beach and Beverly Hills.

Peppy Music

All of the late and peppy dance tunes will be played by the Melvin Rhythm Boys of Los Angeles and featured on the floor show will be Carol Steven, 11-year-old daughter of Mr .and Mrs. W. A. Steven of Arcadia.

Clubwoman Going East in May

MRS. CHARLES WILLEY

Chairman of the annual ball at the Turf club which the Arcadia Woman's club is sponsoring, Friday night, April 22. As Mrs. Willey and her husband are leaving Arcadia permanently early in May the party this week will be her last big undertaking for the club.

The Willeys will go first to Carlsbad, N. M., and then on to Detroit to attend a railroad convention. They expect to spend the summer in the east and will perhaps return to California in the fall but do not plan to make their home again in Arcadia.

Mrs. Willey has been a member of the Arcadia club since 1934, when Mrs. Marian Pike, was president. She has had charge of several of the big club benefits, including the first of the annual dances at the Turf club last year, and the Carnival day which the club sponsored several years ago.

Today, Mrs. Willey was a special guest at the luncheon-meeting of the club.

Challenge Given To Clubwomen At Convention

Challenging clubwomen of Los Angeles District California Federation of Women's clubs in 37th annual convention in Pasadena yesterday morning, Dr. Clara B. Burdette, "mother" of the federation, urged them to question themselves on their standards of living.

As a committee of one, she told them to examine their own conduct, the manner in which their own families viewed them; to determine their own spiritual concepts and if their standards of spiritual life were such they would be able to accomplish something.

In the best of health and with characteristic humor, Dr. Burdette, 83 years of age, unlike many much younger speakers, gave her talk without notes and spoke in a rich voice that penetrated the farthest corners of the huge auditorium without the use of microphones. She gave glimpses of "the changing world."

Resolutions which had their first reading yesterday morning dealt only with public health measures directed toward the national campaign which the women are waging against social diseases. Mrs. Duncan S. Robinson, state president, said that the same resolutions will be presented at the state conclave by the San Joaquin Valley district.

Arcadia Woman's Club Has Luncheon and Program Meeting

New Officers Are Elected; Mrs. Millspaugh Is President

Bright May flowers in baskets and flat arrangements on the luncheon tables and stage formed a delightful setting for the luncheon meeting of the Arcadia Woman's club yesterday with the president, Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, presiding. Seated at the president's table were the four guest speakers, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Allen of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ridland, recently of Bombay, India; the club trustees, Mrs. W. E. Larsh, Mrs. George Needham, Mrs. C. C. Hoffman; the club program chairman, Mrs. A. R. Chambers, and Rev. and Mrs. Milo Fiske.

Of special importance during the business meeting was the annual election of officers which was carried through without contest for any of the nine offices. Mrs. Mark Millspaugh was elected to the office of president; first vice president, Mrs. James A. Stoker; second vice president, Mrs. H. E. Reiss; recording secretary, Mrs. E. J. Fentress; corresponding secretary, Mrs. B. Rubottom; federation secretary, Mrs. W. E. Larsh; treasurer, Mrs. John Murfett; program chairman, Mrs. C. E. Hoover; parliamentarian, Miss Eva Reynolds. These officers will be installed at the June first club meeting.

Delegates who gave brief reports of the recent district federation convention were the club president, Mrs. Stewart, and Miss Reynolds, Mrs. E. M. Timmerhoff as alternate, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Meade, Mrs. Larsh and Mrs. Ardene Boller, federation secretary.

By a unanimous vote of the members present, the treasurer was authorized to pay the balance of indebtedness on the addition to the club house, built the past summer. This payment was made possible because of the excellent financial returns of the recent party held by the club at the Turf club house. The substantial balance will be placed in the permanent building fund. The Woman's club expressed its appreciation to the Turf club management and to the manager of the concessions, for the courtesy extended in connection with the party.

Luncheon Hostess

Responsible for the excellent luncheon were Mrs. Hugh Sanborn, charman; Mesdames Luella Phelps, Edith Cruben, Olive Hoffman, Irene Stoker, Florence Endicott, Elizabeth Walker, Jennie Holmgreen and for the table decorations, Mrs. Gertrude Schneck.

Vocal Music

As a lovely finish to the interesting meeting was the vocal selection sung by Miss Edith MacDonald, director of music of the Arcadia schools who accompanied herself in the group of five charming numbers.

FEDERATION IN SESSION TODAY

LOS ANGELES, May 4—(UP)—The California Federation of Women's Clubs, planning consideration of resolutions seeking more rigid sex-crime laws, prison reform and liberalization of laws governing care of the feeble minded, opened its 37th annual convention here today.

Mrs. Duncan Stewart Robinson of San Francisco, Federation President, told the executive board various social problems and activities of women throughout the State would be discussed. Other resolutions likely to be considered would seek establishment of a two year closed season on ducks and other game birds and the building of a wild flower preserve in Kern County.

Speakers Listed

Warden James A. Johnson of Alcatraz Prison, Cameron Beck of the New York Stock Exchange and President Almon E. Roth of the Waterfront Employers Association will address the convention.

ARCADIA REPRESENTED AT CONVENTION

The Arcadia Woman's Club today was represented by the following delegates: Mrs. Harvey Moss and Mrs. Jackson Stanley.

Tomorrow the Arcadia club will have as delegates: Mrs. C[illegible] W. Stewart, president, Mrs. Juanita Bunting and Mrs. A. L. Parker.

Club President

Mrs. Charles Stewart, president of the Arcadia Woman's Club, who concludes a successful year and turns over the gavel of office, in June, to her successor, Mrs. Mark Millspaugh.

Mrs. Mark Millspaugh Elected Club President For Next Year

Bright May flowers in baskets and flat arrangements on the luncheon tables, stage and loge formed a delightful setting for the luncheon and meeting of the Arcadia Woman's club held in the clubhouse yesterday afternoon with the president, Mrs. Charles W. Stewart presiding.

Seated at the president's table were the four guest speakers, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Allen of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ridland recently from Bombay, India; the club trustees, Mrs. W. E. Larsh, Mrs. George Needham, Mrs. C. C. Hoffman, the club program chairman, Mrs. A. R. Chambers, and Rev. and Mrs. N. Milo Fiske.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Ridland, each spoke of his and her experiences in accepting and following the Oxford group standards of living and behavior. These talks were most impressive.

New Officers Elected

Of special importance during the business meeting, was the annual election of officers which was carried through without contest for any of the nine offices to be filled.

Mrs. Mark Millspaugh was elected to the office of president. The first vice-president was Mrs. James A. Stoker; second vice-president, Mrs. H. E. Reiss; recording secretary, Mrs. E. J. Frentress; corresponding secretary, Mrs. B. Rubottom; federation secretary, Mrs. W. E. Larsh; treasurer, Mrs. John Murfett; program chairman, Mrs. C. E. Hoover; Parliamentarian, Miss Eva Reynolds. These officers will be installed at the first club meeting in June.

Delegates who gave brief reports of the recent district federation convention included the club president, Mrs. Stewart, and Miss Reynolds, Mrs. E. M. Timerhoff as alternate, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Meade, Mrs. Larsh, Mrs. Ardene Boller, federation secretary, and Mrs. John Renshaw, the president's alternate.

Final Payment Made

By a unanimous vote of the members present, the treasurer was authorized to pay the final balance of indebtedness on the addition to the clubhouse, built the past summer. This payment was made possible because of the excellent financial returns from the recent party held by the club at the Turf clubhouse. The substantial balance will be placed in the permanent building fund.

The Woman's club expressed its appreciation to the Turf club management and to the manager of the concessions, for the courtesies and privileges extended in connection with the party, which was declared to be a greater success in every way than the similar party held there last year.

Vocal Selections

As a lovely finish to the interesting meeting came the vocal selections sung by Miss Edith MacDonald, director of music of the Arcadia schools who accompanied herself in a group of five charming numbers.

Responsible for the excellent luncheon were Mrs. Hugh Sanborn, chairman, Mesdames Luella Phelps, Edith Gruben, Olive Hoffman, Irene Stoker, Florence Endicott, Elizabeth Walker, Jennie Holmgreen and for the effective table decorations, Mrs. Gertrude Schenck.

RETIRING PRESIDENT HONORED

Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, retiring president of the Woman's club of Arcadia, was complimented at a luncheon yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. E. Larsh. Mrs. Larsh was assisted by Mrs. Charles Hoffman. Members of the executive board were guests.

Luncheon was served at one long table with centerpiece and favors in orchid shades. The rooms of the charming home on Camino Real were tastefully arranged with choice flowers from the spacious gardens of the home.

An evening bag of needlepoint was presented to Mrs. Stewart by the members of the board as a parting gift of appreciation for one of the club's most successful years under her leadership.

During the afternoon the women completed plans for the club's final meeting next Wednesday when Mrs. Mark Millspaugh will be installed as the club's new president.

Present at the luncheon party besides Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Millspaugh were Mrs. Ardene Boller, Mrs. John Renshaw, Mrs. K. Beanston, Mrs. J. Thomas Reynolds, Mrs. A. R. Chambers, Mrs. George Needham and the two hostesses.

Details Kept Secret By Club Leader

Details of the installation ceremony which will mark the closing of the year for the Woman's Club of Arcadia, next Wednesday afternoon, are not being revealed by the president, Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, who is arranging the details.

The annual meeting will be called to order at 2 p. m.

Last Luncheon Of Year Attended By Club Women

A large group of women assembled at the Woman's clubhouse yesterday when the Arcadia Women's club held its last luncheon of the year.

Special favors marked the places for members and guests which had been made by Mrs. Roy Pike and the executive board.

Serving the delicious luncheon were Mesdames: C. F. Ganther, Bessie Vanderbur, M. C. Cockshott, Dorothy Schweisthel, Mabel McClintock and Anne Cannon. Mrs. Elizabeth Ingram was chairman of the luncheon committee.

Seated at Mrs. Stewart's table at the luncheon were Mrs. W. G. Lewis, Mrs. Maybelle Moore, Mrs. Emma Meade, Mrs. Marie Chambers, Mrs. Jack Renshaw, and Mrs. Helen Raitt.

Fashion Show

As a special feature of the luncheon hour was the fashion show presented by the Alfred Perkins Shop in Beverly Hills. Mrs. Marie Chambers introduced Mr. Perkins who in a most informal and pleasing manner introduced his models.

An embroidered dress and coat to match of cat whiskers material was modeled, a pink lace gown, a royal blue silk jersey, with a new corset style waist, a black silk jersey trimmed in white and many others.

Mrs. Charles Stewart appeared amidst a burst of applause modeling a black crepe satin dress and coat with black hat and shoes completing the ensemble.

Current Events

Following the fashion show Mrs. Carl Randolph gave the women her delightful current events talk.

At the business meeting presided over by Mrs. Stewart, reports were made from the three delegates who attended the state convention, Mrs. Juanita Bunting, Mrs. A. L. Parker, and Mrs. Charles Stewart. Interesting talks also were given by Mrs. Harvey Moss, Mrs. Charles Hoover, and Mrs. Nellie White.

The two last named women presented highlights from the recent radio broadcast of the National Convention of Woman's clubs.

The club decided to make a cash award to Troop 5, of the Boy Scouts, which the organization sponsors, and to also give them a spread next Tuesday night after the regular scout meeting at the Santa Anita school.

This same troop had been given a party earlier in the club year, it was announced.

The speaker for the afternoon was then presented, Mr. Edgar Harrison Wileman, consulting interior decorator of Barker Brothers, and an internationally noted speaker on fabrics who gave a highly amusing talk, illustrated with draperies, rugs and fabrics.

CLUBWOMEN DISPLAY COSTUMES OF FOREIGN COUNTRIES

ARCADIA, Feb. 20.—A foreign atmosphere pervaded the Arcadia Woman's Club this week when clubwomen appeared in costumes of all nations, in observance of the program theme, "International Peace." Mrs. Charles Stewart in a Samoan costume, was program chairman of the day.

International Note Marks Meeting In Arcadia

From alpha to omega a foreign tang tinctured the Arcadia Woman's club meeting yesterday.

Flags of all nations centered the luncheon table where Mrs. G. G. Meade, president, Mrs. C. H. O'Neill, district federation chairman of International interests, guest speaker, and officers, were seated.

Program chairman for the day, Mrs. Charles Stewart, in costume, introduced Mrs. O'Neill who gave an interesting and scholarly address on "International Peace."

Current event talks were given by Mrs. Cyril Shier who, wearing an Indian costume, spoke on that country. Topical events of Spain were given by Mrs. John Renshaw in Spanish dress. Mrs. Viola Andrews, dressed as a Navajo Indian, spoke on the jewelry of that tribe. Mrs. N. Milo Fiske, in a richly embroidered Mandarin coat, gave highlights of the Chinese New Year and Wendell Stewart, clad as a Bavarian, told about the youth movement in Germany.

Quartet Sings

Further stressing the international theme, a quartet composed of Mrs. Lola Trew as a Chinese woman, Mrs. Harlan Lindell, Japanese, Mrs. Jock Garrow, Scotch, and Mrs. Roberta McBratney of Monrovia, as an Irish lass, sang hymns and songs of foreign lands.

A musical trio, Mrs. Ruth Baker, pianist, Miss Billy Baker, violin, and Miss Mary Baker, marimba, played several selections.

From the land of the Midnight Sun, Mrs. LeRoy Anderson brought music on her antique Norwegian violin playing folk songs of her native country, dressed in the style of that far-away shore. Three sisters from out of the city, her guests, were also in costume and Mrs. George Beem of Long Beach accompanied her at the piano.

To a medley of international music members in costume paraded across the stage of the auditorium where were exhibited articles from all parts of the globe. Curator of this interesting feature, was Mrs. Ardene Boller.

Exhibit Curios

Noted among the articles were fine textiles, Mexican baskets, blankets, Egyptian handwork, Pitcairn Island wrap, Bali and Javanese musical instruments, Irish linen, foreign dolls, hand-carved, tapestry covered French chair, hangings from China, pottery from many lands, inlaid boxes and ivory from India.

Luncheon committee members serving, wore leis from Hawaii, adding the South Seas air to the ensemble. Approximately 100 attended the luncheon and program.

Mrs. Meade presided over a short business session.

ARCADIA WOMEN in the WAR EFFORT

by Rose Quayle

Impressed with the civic-mindedness and activity in win-the-war projects, of women in Arcadia, the Tribune will run a series of thumbnail sketches of women who head such organizations.

In the first of our series, we want you to meet Mrs. Charles W. (Jessie) Stewart, whom a lot of you know already, since she is one of the most active of Arcadia's busy women. At the present time she heads the Women's Activities Committee of the Arcadia Defense Council.

MRS. CHARLES W. STEWART

Jessie Stewart was born in Minneapolis. She was the fifth child in a family of six. Working with people, therefore, is nothing new to her. The group motif runs through her life like a shining silver thread.

Mrs. Stewart's father moved his family to Los Angeles during the boom period, and that city, with the exception of a few years in Long Beach following her marriage, has been her home until she came to Arcadia.

She sighed deeply, and went on, "Japanese soldiers were everywhere in China, but nobody seemed to question it, they were simply there."

Motion pictures were made of all their travels, to show their friends on their return. "We had such a good time as a group," recalls Mrs. Stewart.

The Stewart family, which consists of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart and their two children, Wendell and Virginia, moved to Arcadia in 1914. "I wanted my children to grow up in the country," says Mrs. Stewart. "And on the whole, I think they've gained by living in Arcadia. They got more individual attention at school, and took a deep personal interest in all school activities. Wendell went on to graduate from U. C. L. A., while Virginia attended Berkeley.

"I've enjoyed everything I've ever done in Arcadia," says Mrs. Stewart, smiling reminiscently. "I think the best days for our family were when the children were in high school and our house was used as a meeting place for their friends. Even the school band met at our house. Yes, the children have gained much by living in a small town."

The Stewart family loves travel. Wendell's gift on graduating from college was a trip to Hawaii. Summer vacations the family spent visiting all the national parks. One summer was spent in Alaska.

About eight years ago Mr. and Mrs. Stewart visited all the countries on the Pacific Coast, including New Zealand, Australia, Japan and China.

"Even at that time Japan was preparing for war, but of course, we didn't interpret the signs correctly."

This group living and doing has extended itself to an interest in community life. For many years Mrs. Stewart served as Conductor of a public forum in international relations for the Department of Public Education in Arcadia. The organizations for which Mrs. Stewart has furnished leadership are of a varied nature. She served the Shaminade Lyric Club as President was President of the Women's Church Guild, has been President of the P. T. A., and was President of the Woman's Club for two years. Also, for a period of five years, she covered Arcadia news for the Monrovia New-Post and the Pasaden Star News.

At present she is a member of the P. E. O. (a national cultural organization), and the Woman's Committee of the Defense Council, and has nine women who head various committees to help her.

Mrs. Stewart has a high opinion of Arcadia's women. "There is no limit to what the women of Arcadia can do and their ability to do it," says Mrs. Stewart, "as they are given leadership and made to understand the various needs of the community."

Mrs. Stewart has a very good reason for liking orgonizational work. She met her husband, who conducts a real estate business in Monrovia, when she attended a County Convention of Christian Endeavor held in San Diego. She was a delegate from Los Angeles, Mr. Stewart a delegate from Ventura County.

Smiling wryly at her recollections, Mrs. Stawart says, "They paid my expenses, but I'm afraid they didn't get their money's worth out of me that time."

Mrs. Stewart has recently organized the Arcadia Chapter of the Women's Ambulance and Defense Corps of America. They are set up for instant service in case of need, she says. This group is comprised of twenty-three women.

Along with her other activities, Mrs. Stewart devotes a few hours each day to helping the Red Cross here meet its surgical dressings quota.

"My great interest right now is winning the war," sums up Mrs. Stewart.
